Journal Room of Humanities: general guide

Presentation

The Journal Room is a section of the Humanities Library, situated in Building B. It has a collection of more than 6,000 periodical titles freely accessible, arranged by broad areas of knowledge and divided between the two floors of the Journal Room, following a correlative order of numeration.

It houses a special storage collection with original documents published before 1950 and material in special formats.

Journals are not available for loan.

Users

All members of the university community and the UAB related institutions have access to the Journal Room and its services.

On Saturdays, Sundays, Public Holidays and at nights, in order to enter the Journal Room, you must present the card which confirms you as a member UAB.

Services
