BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF SUBJECT

The Practicum was established by the Departament de Filologia Anglesa i Germanística in 2003 to give our students the chance to get university credits by acquiring practical workplace experience as a complement to their university studies. Each internship involves 60 hours of work, spread over the 10 weeks of the academic term, for which the student is awarded 6 credits. The student may not receive financial remuneration of any sort. Students must have completed the first cycle of the degree in order to be eligible to apply.

OBJECTIVES

In general terms, the purpose of the internship is to either allow our students to exercise skills that they have acquired in their theory courses, or learn new skills related to their likely eventual professions, skills that they can not learn through academic study.
