In the context of the European INCASI (International Network for Comparative Analysis of Social Inequalities, <http://incasi.uab.es>) project and on the occasion of the annual meeting of the network of 20 European and Latin American universities linked to the project, the Biblioteca de Ciències Socials organizes an exhibition about its activity and scientific production.

Next Tuesday, February 27 at 16:00 the exhibition will be inaugurated and will be extended until mid-March. It can be consulted at <http://www.bib.uab.cat/socials/exposicions/incasi2/>. For this reason, the presentation of two books has been organized.

Construction of AMOSIT Model

Based on the contribution of the different groups of the INCASI network, it is a matter of consensus and definition of a common research perspective according to the proposal of the AMOSIT model of analysis. It seeks to establish the main theoretical and conceptual aspects on which to articulate research in the network. This phase will be complemented by the systematization and analysis of social policies in Europe and Latin America in the years that have passed since the 21st century.
