Project Aim

Our project aims to develop, implement and evaluate innovative methods and practices focused on mechanisms of orientation and tutorial actions to foster inclusive education of young people, who are at risk of early leavers, in formal and non-formal educational contexts. This aim is addressing clearly one of the important features of the Erasmus+ Call (EACEA/10/2018): “developing and implementing innovative methods and practices to foster inclusive education and/or youth environments in specific contexts”.

This main aim is divided in five specific objectives:

1. To develop a data collection tools to identify risk factors and support mechanisms of early leaving.
2. To develop, implement and evaluate mechanisms of orientation and tutorial action with young people who are early leavers or at risk of early leaving.
3. To support educational stakeholders (teachers, trainers, educators, leaders of educational institutions, and other professionals) in dealing with young people early leavers or those who are at risk of early leaving through orientation and tutorial actions.
4. To stablish learning networks about tackling early leaving through mechanisms of orientation and tutorial actions.
5. To identify the aspects of effective leadership in educational institutions that foster educational and social inclusion of young people who are early leavers or those are at risk of early leaving in the educational institutions.

Implementation

The work packages (WPs) are the basic coordination units for this project. Each WP consists of four levels: 1) the WP leader, his/her main role is that of 'process owner' and therefore must plan and control the activities, outputs and resources allocated, 2) the core team, made up of the local research team, 3) a representative of each partners, to ensure maximum coherence and coordination between phases and tasks, 4) a representative of P1, as coordinating university, to ensure compliance with the program and an overview report on the project.

The core project activities are grouped within eight WP (see Annex 1 of this document for more details):

- 1) WP1: “Management activities”, led by P1, involves 3 activities/tasks, and 3 outputs.
- 2) WP2: “Monitoring Early Leaving”, leading by P4, involves 4 activities/tasks and 2 outputs.
- 3) WP3: “Orientation and tutorial action proposal”, leading by P1, involves 5 activities and 5 outputs.
- 4) WP4: “Implementation of the proposal”, leading by P5, involves 3 activities and 2 outputs.
- 5) WP5: “Evaluation of the proposal”, leading by P3, involves 3 activities and 3 outputs.
- 6) WP6: “Dissemination & Communication”, leading by P5, involves 4 activities and 4 outputs.
- 7) WP7: “Exploitation”, leading by P2, involves 1 activity and 2 outputs.
- 8) WP8: “Quality plan”, leading by P2, involves 2 activities and 1 output.

The implementation methodology of this project is based on three basic principles:

- Distribution of the leadership: enables the assignation of responsibilities and tasks of the different work packages among the partners.
- Horizontal participation: facilitates communication between all the participant members and organisations and, most of all, makes it possible to take advantage of all the ideas and initiatives and for these to be implemented without delay. Enabling all the members to participate will increase implication and co-responsibility in compliance with objectives.
- Knowledge management: is proposed from a double time perspective: (1) to manage the flow of knowledge accumulated from previous research and projects; (2) the management of the knowledge that other research teams are generating in relation to the same topics being proposed by our project. These methodological principles will benefit networking.

The following summarizes the main actions to assure the optimal implementation of the project:

- Initial meeting (kick-off meeting). Partners will attend an initial meeting hosted by P1 in January 2019 (3 days). At this meeting, P1 will lead the contractual agreement with EACEA and clarify the legal and financial requirements<sup>1</sup>. P1 will prepare and issue a draft project handbook for all partners that will be discussed and finalised at the meeting. The project handbook will set out overall roles and responsibilities, expectations, a detailed budget breakdown, systems for reporting and strategies for communication including the scheduling of further meetings. The roles and responsibilities will be set out in partner agreements, which all partners will sign. At the initial meeting, a detailed and operative action plan will also be drawn up that will set out timescales, specific actions to be led by each partner, criteria for success and the budget allocated. Lead partner: P1. UAB

<sup>1</sup> On 3rd and 4th February P1 will attend the initial meeting of the project in Brussels where legal and financial requirements will be explained and clarified. After this meeting, P1 will communicate to the partners European guiding principles related to the project.

Output: Project handbook (it will include quality plan). Delivery date: March 2019.

- Progress reports and interim monitoring meeting. Partners will produce interim reports on progress with the deliverables, the action plan and the costs to P1 in accordance with all terms and conditions set out in the partner agreements by early November 2019, September 2020, March 2021 and November 2021. These reports will be discussed at the monitoring progress meetings which will take place in UK (November 2019), Portugal (September 2020), and Germany (March 2021) (2 days each one). P1 will check, approve, analyse, and summarise the internal partner reports and issue a progress report to EACEA. Lead partner: P2. IPLEIRIA (supported by P1. UAB)

Output: Progress Reports and interim monitoring meeting (include external reports); Delivery date: NOV 2019; SEP 2020; MARCH 2021.
Progress report to EACEA; Delivery date: May 2020

- Final reports and final meeting. Partners will produce a final set of reports on the outcomes of the deliverables, the action plan and the costs to date to P1 in accordance with all terms and conditions set out in the partner agreements. These will be completed by the middle of October 2021 to prepare for the final meeting in November 2021 (3 days). This final meeting will be held the same week as the international seminar foreseen within WP6, in order to make efficient use of the budget. Therefore, this final partner meeting will be hosted by P5 and will close the formal project activities, summarise the results achieved, analyse the information gathered from the final partner evaluation and set the basis for the final report of the project (due data December 2021), which will be conducted by P1. Lead partner: P5. UB

Output: Final Reports and Final meeting (include external reports). Delivery date: OCT 2021; NOV 2021; DEC 2021.
Final report to EACEA; Delivery date: 60 days after the end of the project

Local and international multiplier events (seminars/conferences)

Two multiplier events are planned to be taken during the project. On the one hand, a local seminar (interim event in July 2020). On the other hand, an international seminar (final event in November 2021).

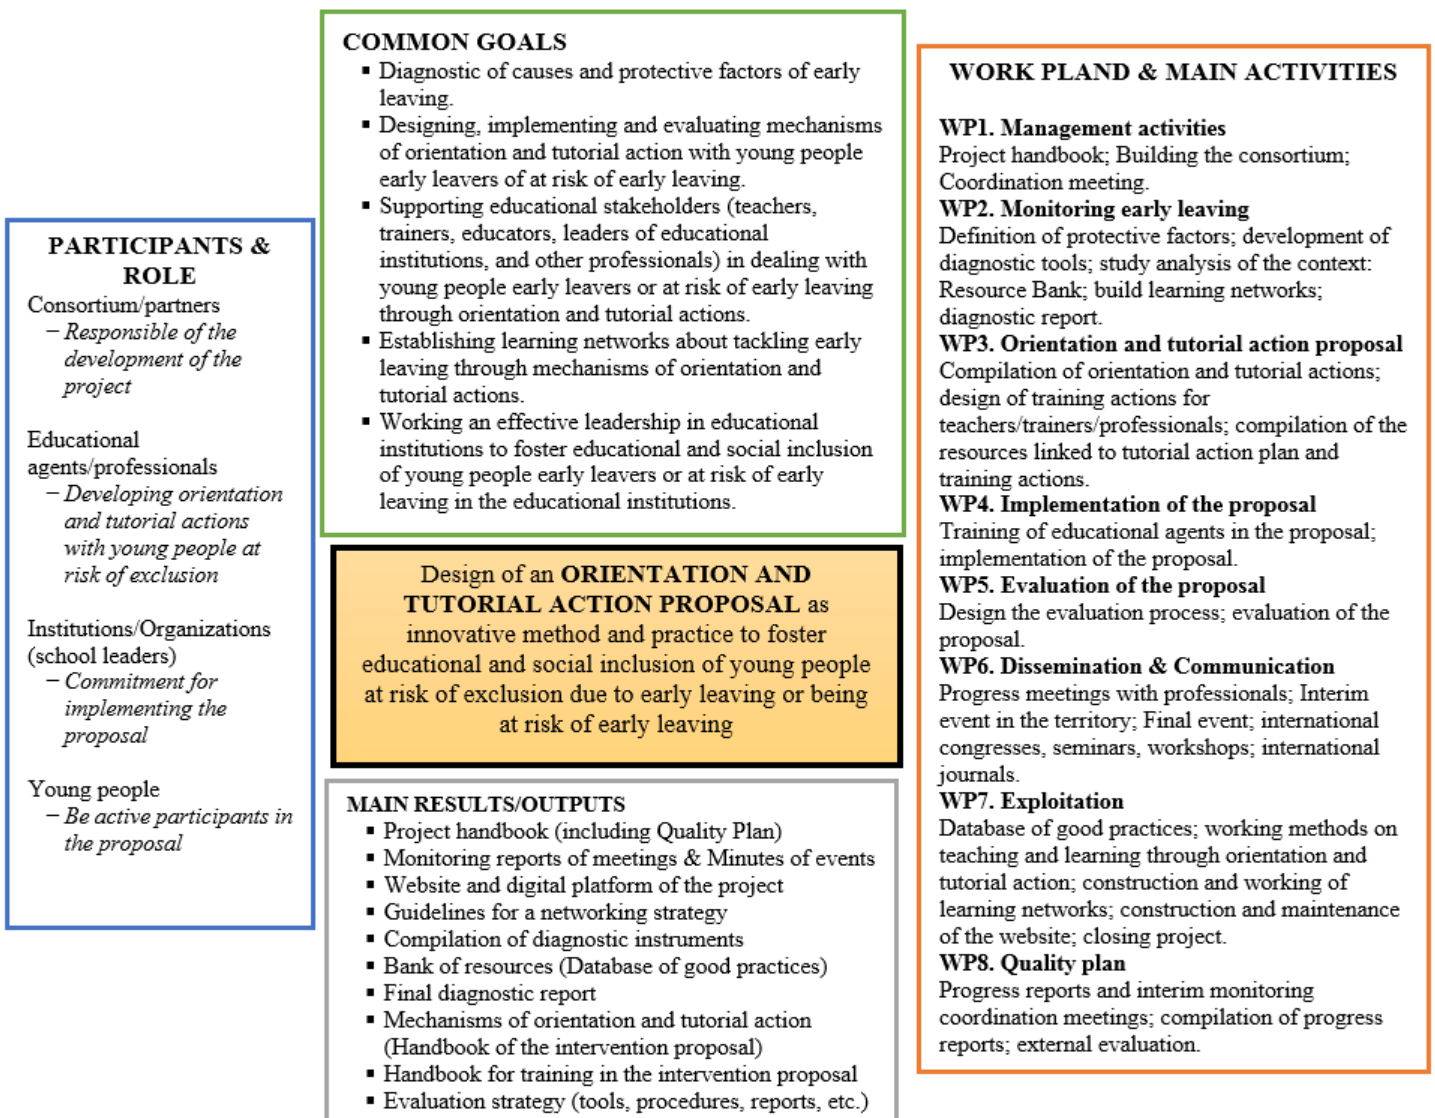

Regarding the local seminar, each partner should hold in each respective territory, in order to communicate and disseminate to other professionals and institutions the actions (mechanisms of orientation and tutorial action) that, within the framework of Orienta4YEL project, are being developed to tackle young people's risk of early leaving, and to improve their educational and social inclusion. This local seminar will be developed at local level and will involve the participation of all the stakeholders at local level. During the seminar the main progresses of the project will be explained. Likewise, the seminar will contribute to the creation of the local networks and the exchange of practices between different stakeholders and the co-creation of measures to be implemented during and after the project at local level. This event will create the premises for the sustainability of the project.

Regarding the international seminar, this final event aims to close the project. P5 should hold this final event with the support of the other partners who will be actively involved in the dissemination plan of the event (different media will be used for its dissemination), and communication of the results of the project during the event. This event will be open to all those who are involved and/or interested in fostering education and social inclusion of young people at risk of exclusion due to early leaving or for being at risk of early leaving. One of the objectives of this event is to communicate and disseminate the results of Orienta4YEL project.

Formal and non-formal educational institutions and local and/or regional policy makers will be invited to take part of all the multiplier events planned within the framework of the project.

Strategic Plan

The strategic plan of Orienta4YEL project is characterized by the inter-relation among its components, as next figure summarizes.

Likewise, the work plan of this project (see annex 1 of this document), summarize the expected outputs of this project through the different work packages, and their related list of activities, time period or due date, lead partner, and country of the activities.

Participants

Our main target group is made up of young people who are early leavers or at risk of early leaving within different educational stages such as secondary compulsory education, initial/basic vocational education and training (VET) programmes (level 1), intermediate VET programmes (level 2). This target group are youngsters aged between 12-21 who: a) do not finish lower secondary education (compulsory secondary education); b) are at risk of not finishing lower secondary education (compulsory secondary education); c) finish lower secondary education (compulsory secondary education) but do not make the transition to upper secondary education; d) make the transition to upper secondary education and are at risk of early leaving.

On the other hand, we can also identify the educational stakeholders who are involved in working with this group of young people. We are talking about teachers, trainers, other professionals and services, and leaders of educational institutions who manage this young people group through training and the intervention of specific intervention plans in their institutions/organizations for aiming this project (effective leadership).

This project's development requires from each partner their access to one territory and to formal and non-formal educational institutions/organizations that are committed for tackling early leaving through education and training, more specifically providing with mechanisms of orientation and tutorial action to this end.

Therefore, the consortium will work under the umbrella of this assumption:

- A minimum of 10 institutions/organizations per territory –this minimum sample has to have institutions where compulsory secondary education, initial/basic VET programmes, and intermediate VET programmes are implemented–.
- A minimum of one group of young people by institution (approximately, 20 youths) but it would be preferable two groups of young people.
- A minimum of two educational stakeholders by institution/organization –one of these educational agents should be the school leader/management team and other should be teacher/trainer as tutors– but it would be preferable two educational stakeholders (two teachers/trainers as tutors and one leader/management team).

The involvement of participants will start at an early stage through contacts with institutions and/or organizations potentially interested in entering into the project to work on orientation and tutorial actions with young people.

Quality plan

Quality assurance actions will cover the entire duration of the project. Its aim is to guarantee project quality, namely through the development of monitoring and evaluation activities (ex-ante, ongoing and ex-post). A separate quality plan will be drawn up that will set out the testing and assessment activities. These will include the interim progress reports, the assessment of the “final diagnostic report”, the testing of the strategic plan and its implementation. This quality plan also involves an external assessment, which will be made by one external institution who will verify and proof the activity developed during the process according to initial agreements.

The assessment strategy will include assessments from involved educational stakeholders, young people and formal and non-formal educational institutions/organisations using questionnaires, feedback forms, and dialogue –interviews and focus groups–. As already explained, an independent expert will be appointed through a sub-contract, who will be responsible for producing a formal external assessment.

Assessments will be based on both quantitative and qualitative measures. The quality assurance mechanisms for the consortium itself over issues such as delivery, financial management and meeting deadlines will be set out in the project handbook and managed by P1. Quality assurance will be led by P1 too.

The following summarizes the main actions to assure the project quality:

- Action 1: Quality plan. Partner 2 (IPLeiria) is who leads this action. IPLeiria will develop a Quality Plan (it will be included in the Annex of this document) that will be drawn up at the initial meeting (kick-off-meeting) to set out the roles, tasks and responsibilities of each partner in ensuring quality, in both delivery and outcomes, and their responsibilities for the project monitoring and evaluation. The Quality Plan will include, among other items, the strategies, activities and tools to be adopted, timescales and reporting mechanisms, and will be incorporated into both the internal and external reports. The internal monitoring reports associated to the implementation methodology will take this Quality Plan into account.
- Action 2: Evaluation of ORIENTA4YEL outputs. Based on what is defined in the Quality Plan, and in the data collected and analysed, internal reports, which will be integrated in the monitoring and final reports required by the implementation methodology, will be produced. During the project time, evaluation tools will be designed and applied to involve the actors. The data collected will be analysed and integrated in the project reports. Likewise, an external expert will be appointed to carry out an external evaluation of the overall project. This external expert will provide interim and final evaluations of the project development and its outcomes. The focus will be on meeting the targets set out in the project, the quality of the products and results, the management and participation of consortium partners, the impact on the target group, and the quality of dissemination and exploitation measures.

Dissemination

Dissemination will not only address staff, leaders of educational institutions, teachers, trainers, other professionals, institutions/organisations, vulnerable groups of disadvantaged young people at involved partners, but also a wider public in the territory. To this end, the partnership will disseminate the project –developed activities, results, etc.– in the territory through newsletters, local meetings, and events like seminars and/or conferences, workshops, e-mail, public web site, etc., and to other levels outside the territory.

All partner countries will arrange for local dissemination in their national contexts through training seminars to ensure that the results of the project reach relevant stakeholders. Likewise, the results of the project will be presented to a wider public for all areas of the academic and practice field at cross-national training seminar/conference. The program will represent the different types of partners and the different national contexts. The cross-national conference will be open to participants from all areas involved with the field of study of the project.

Work on the dissemination of the project will start in month one of the first year of the project, at the initial meeting (kick-off meeting). A dissemination plan and its strategies will be drawn up at this meeting, and all members of the consortium will have a role in dissemination using their own networks in their own countries at the beginnings.

The dissemination strategy will be managed by P5 and implemented by the all ones. P5 will be who lead the Work Package of Dissemination & Communication although the consortium will draw up the dissemination plan and all members of these will have a role in dissemination. The initial dissemination of the project will take place through the partnership's own networks using meetings, conferences, newsletters, academic journals and press releases to disseminate the project and expand the use of the educational intervention model.

Similarly, after the development of the dissemination plan, all partners will broaden the strategy through the normal networking channels, and exhibiting or speaking at key conferences in order to begin engaging education professionals. For example, the members of the consortium will continue to disseminate the project through attendance of relevant conferences or seminars, and use of such resources as papers, academic events, and others–.

During the project, the website will be one of the key dissemination strategies. Materials produced during the course of the project such as photos, blogs or regular updates on activities will be added to this website and disseminated using a variety of communication channels including social networks like LinkedIn, Twitter or Facebook. It will also include contact details for how to get involved in the scheme, or to find out additional information. Specialised media, publications and other websites will be other examples of dissemination strategies in order to maximise publicity.

All documentation generated from ORIENTA4YEL will be available from the project website repositories. Research report will be published under Creative Commons license. In regards to the research papers written in the ORIENTA4YEL project framework, we will try to publish it in journals that allow open access.
