Open Education Week

The Open Education Week (<https://www.openeducationweek.org/>) is an annual global initiative that aims to raise awareness of the benefits of implementing open-ended educational resources and practices, and this year takes place from March 7 to 11

We invite you to participate in the talks that the Library Service and the CORE for Education and Employability have prepared to promote open education.

Innovative open education initiatives at UAB: OpenLabs and TEDxUABarcelona

Date: March 9, 2022, 12 noon to 1:30 p.m.

Speakers:

Alfons Miás Miás - coordinator of UABOpenLabs. Department of Strategic Development of the UAB Research Area. Creation and process space manager. Cultural manager with a degree in art history.

David Hernández Salazar - Design and strategic innovation technician in the entrepreneurship unit of the UAB Research Park. Focused on creative and innovation processes. Industrial designer and research in design and innovation.

Aimed at: University community (PDI, PAS and Students)

Description: Explanation of two innovative experiences that are being developed on the UAB campus that are in line with open education. At the end there will be an open round of questions.

- OpenLabs: what they are and what spaces there are, in what context of the UAB it is included: open innovation UAB, how they are organized and what is the way of working: collaborative, cooperative work of the whole university community and territory ... exchange of educational practices and projects. Co-ideation between participants. Training tools industry 4.0 to bring the whole population closer (democratization of these tools) ..., what open education perspective do they encompass? Basic dimensions of openness (access, content, pedagogy, recognition, collaboration, and research). How the university community can address these labs.
