EU approach for methodology

User-centric

Co-Creation

Why projects want people with disabilities

Demographics, skills

Social responsibility, comply legislation

Why DPO should participate

Nothing about us without us

Funding

Political dimension

Dissemination within members of EOA research

Role of DPOs in projects

- Phase 1 of all projects: user requirements
- Phase 2 of all projects: testing development (against requirements)
- Phase 3 of all projects: piloting
- Other tasks
 - Communication
 - Dissemination
 - Policy papers
 - Standardisation

Structure your idea

1. What is the idea?
 - Summarise it in 2-3 sentences
2. How will benefit from your idea?
 - Is someone in need of your interests?
3. Who will use the results of your idea?
 - Define the potential impact of your idea
4. Why would someone be interested in the results of your idea?
5. Is there a direct need of the European societies for your results?
6. Does the idea have an European dimension?
 - Solves a problem in multiple EU regions?
Requires cooperation from different EU member states?

A group of approximately 12 people are captured in a moment of pure joy, jumping and cheering with their arms raised. They are silhouetted against a bright, golden sunset sky. The sun is low on the horizon, creating a strong backlight effect. The people are dressed in casual summer attire like tank tops and shorts. The overall mood is one of celebration and team spirit.

Creating the team

- Develop a clear project plan
- Identify tasks, skills, expertise and knowledge of your team

Thank you very much
