BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF SUBJECT

This is an advanced level writing course which covers a number of recognised genres: the academic paper, journalistic writing (including advertising) and creative writing (the short story). In each case there will be a consideration of the major characteristics of the written style, followed by practice opportunities, and finally a written assignment. A theoretical perspective will be adopted when useful but most of the time students can expect to be working on the practical problems of text construction.

OBJECTIVES

The objectives of the course are to extend students' writing skills into specialised areas of writing, and at the same time continue to improve students' levels of language proficiency.

ASSESSMENT

Weekly writing practice activities

(supervised via Practiques): 25%

Tutorial work 15%

Three final assignments 20% each.

TUTORIALS

Students will be expected to undertake library research in relation to the kinds of texts considered in the course. Tasks will be assigned and carried out via campus virtual

BIBLIOGRAPHY / MATERIALS

All the work done in this course will be on the basis of authentic texts of the kinds considered, which are generally available. Other relevant readings will be suggested as the course progresses.

OTHER COMMENTS: Students who have not passed Anglès Instrumental II will have serious difficulties in reaching the required standard, and are advised not to register for this subject.
