Prerequisites

All students should have a C1 level of English or the equivalent in order to follow the course and to be able to produce assignments at a level that will be required for their final MA thesis.

Students will be expected to follow and undertake practical work with advanced texts in the fields of language and literature.

Objectives and Contextualisation

The aim of this module is to reach an advanced level of both oral and written competences in academic English. In this sense, students will work on complex textual structures, rhetorical and argumentative strategies and format and style issues besides from getting familiar with the most prototypical genres of academic and literary discourses. Our approach will be based on systemic-functional grammar (SFG).

Students will be shown the basic skills to carry out quality research in terms of contents and methods. In this vein, an updated state of the arts as to current research fields within English Studies is concerned will be provided and sessions around information search and publishing techniques will be organized. Finally, students will be using technological tools to facilitate quality research.

Skills

- Analyse and synthesise information at an advanced level.
- Apply methodological knowledge of statistical analysis and data generation, treatment and codification of multilingual databases, analysis of literary texts, etc. to research.
- Communicate the knowledge acquired and the contributions of one's research correctly, accurately and clearly both orally and in writing.
- Critically argue, issue judgements and present ideas on the basis of the analysis of information originating from scientific production in these areas.
- Develop autonomous learning skills applicable to the research process.
- Show respect towards the opinions, values, behaviours and/or practices of others.
- Use new technologies for capturing and organising information relevant to lifelong learning and problem-solving in professional activities.
- Use the English language for academic and professional purposes related to research into the acquisition, teaching and use of English as a second language in multilingual and multicultural contexts, literary studies and cultural studies.
- Work effectively in teams in multilingual, multicultural and interdisciplinary professional and/or academic environments.

Learning outcomes

1. Analyse and synthesise information at an advanced level.
2. Analyse the appropriateness and fluidity of discourse in English from the grammatical, rhetorical and literary points of view.
3. Communicate the knowledge acquired and the contributions of one's research correctly, accurately and clearly both orally and in writing.
4. Critically consider and analyse the readings and materials proposed in the linguistic and literary fields.
5. Develop autonomous learning skills applicable to the research process.
6. Orally present academic work in a clear and organised manner that is appropriate for the linguistic and/or literary field.
7. Show respect towards the opinions, values, behaviours and/or practices of others.
8. Use new technologies for capturing and organising information relevant to lifelong learning and problem-solving in professional activities.
9. Work effectively in teams in multilingual, multicultural and interdisciplinary professional and/or academic environments.
10. Write texts of an advanced academic level, observing the rules for style and organisation in English.

Content

1. Opening Session for all Students (14/09/2015)

The course will begin with a joint session in which the three teachers will describe the objectives and structure of the module as well as the content, methodology and assessment criteria, of their respective seminars.

2. Academic Writing Workshop (6 credits).

Sept. 14-30, from 10:00-13:00, Mon. and Wed., October 5-7, from 8:30-13:00, Mon. and Wed.

This is a one-group seminar for all language and literature students taught by Dr Susagna Tubau. The workshop will focus on formal aspects of academic writing and will be eminently practical in its aims and methods.

3. Doing Research (6 credits)

This seminar will be concerned with the difficulties students typically encounter when doing research for the first time. This part of the module is designed to encourage students to formulate a research project, put their conclusions in writing (in the form of a 'publishable' article), and present it to the rest of the class. It is organized as a progression from the earliest stages of research (finding your research topic, etc.) to the very final one, i.e. the completion and revision of an article.

This is a two-group seminar

a) Literature Students:

Seminar convened by Dr Jordi Coral. Oct. 14-Dec. 16, from 10:00-11:30, Tue. and Thu.

b) Language Students:

Seminar convened by Dr Sònia Oliver. Feb. 9-Apr 28, from 10:00 to 11:30, Tue. and Thu.

4. Lectures, conference attendance and Library sessions (3 credits)

This part of the module is designed to familiarise students with the research community through a series of lectures by visiting scholars, and the attendance to a conference/workshop on some area of the MA itinerary (Language or Literature) where students are enrolled. A series of practical sessions about the use of our library resources, including digital ones, will complete this module component.

Methodology

This course lasts both semesters of the academic year and it has three parts (1) a general training involving the academic abilities needed to undertake research and to present and write an academic thesis or paper for a conference; (2) an area specific training in either language or literature on how to address specific academic abilities and research sources related to each discipline; (3) a series of area specific lectures by invited speakers, as well as attendance to an area specific conference.

Both the general training session and the area specific training sessions will be organized around the following activities

- Lectures to introduce basic theoretical concepts, class discussions on set readings, practical cases and exercises
- Oral presentations
- Practical sessions at the library to learn how to use information resources
