Use of languages

Principal working language: english (eng)

Some groups entirely in English: Yes

Some groups entirely in Catalan: No

Some groups entirely in Spanish: No

Prerequisites

1. Students enrolling for this course should be interested in exploring the use of English from a practical perspective. They will also be expected to collect sociolinguistic data and to carry out an analysis of that data.
2. C2 level of proficiency in English as defined by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages: Learning, Teaching, Assessment.
3. A more detailed syllabus will be distributed at the beginning of the course with a detailed schedule of activities and readings.

Objectives and Contextualisation

The goals of English Sociolinguistics are to familiarize students with language variation from a quantitative labovian perspective and with linguistic practices from a qualitative ethnographic perspective related to English language from a synchronic perspective. The content of this course is meant to complement other courses students in English Philology have taken where English is treated as a fixed or standard System. A practical approach to the subject is adopted. Students will have a chance to gain some experience with collecting sociolinguistic data and applying theoretical and conceptual knowledge presented in the course to real life communicative situations and also to gain an understanding of the ways social inequality and exclusion get (re)produced through language.

Methodology

60% of the final grade is based on 2 partial exams (30% each).

30% is based on an assignment to be carried out outside the class.

10% is based on question sets

Please note:

- The exams and assignments are obligatory.
- The minimum grade on assignments and exams to form average is 4.
- Submission of 20% of assessment items (assignments / exercises / exams) excludes the possibility of obtaining the status of "not submitted" (NP) as a final course grade.
- The level of English will account for 25% of the grade in oral presentations and the correction of written work including the exams.
- VERY IMPORTANT: Total or partial plagiarism of any of the exercises will automatically be considered "fail" (0) for the whole course, not only for the plagiarized item. Plagiarism is copying one or more sentences from unidentified sources, presenting it as original work (THIS INCLUDES COPYING PHRASES OR FRAGMENTS FROM THE INTERNET AND ADDING THEM WITHOUT MODIFICATION TO A TEXT WHICH IS PRESENTED AS ORIGINAL). Plagiarism is a serious offense. Students must learn to respect the intellectual property of others, identifying any source they may use, and take responsibility for the originality and authenticity of the texts they produce.

Re-assessment:

- items may be re-assessed provided that the student has passed at least 70% of the course and has submitted all items. That is, only 30% of the course can be re-assessed and only if the student has done all the exercises.
