Prerequisites

1. Prior to do this subject, it is highly recommended that students have taken the following subjects: "Twentieth Century British Literature" from the First Year and "Victorian Literature" from the Second Year - First Semester.
2. It is necessary to have an English level between C1 and C2. According to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages. Learning, Teaching, Assessment, a C1 level of English allows students to: understand a wide range of demanding, longer clauses, and recognize implicit meaning; express ideas fluently and spontaneously without much obvious searching for expressions; use language flexibly and effectively for social, academic and professional purposes; produce clear, well-structured, detailed texts on complex subjects, showing controlled use of organizational patterns, connectors and cohesive devices. A C2 level of English allows students to: understand with ease virtually everything heard or read; summarize information from different spoken and written sources, reconstructing arguments and accounts in a coherent presentation; express themselves spontaneously, very fluently and precisely, differentiating finer shades of meaning even in the most complex situations.

Objectives and Contextualisation

1. This subject fosters the analysis, debate and interpretation of fiction, essays and poetry written in the United States during the 19th century.
2. The academic preparation deriving from this subject is essential for all remaining subjects within the degree relating to US literature and culture.

3. On successfully completing 19th century American Literature, students will be able to: show a good level of reading comprehension and analysis of American literature; produce written analyses of literary texts studied in class; manage secondary bibliography and databases; expressed an informed opinion on the texts studied throughout this course.

Evaluation

Assessment is based on:

-Academic essay = 40%

-Exam = 40%

-Class Participation (class discussions, passage analysis and Forum contributions) = 20%

Please, note:

* All the subjects in this degree follow continuous assessment.

* All the exercises are COMPULSORY.

* The submission of either the paper or the exam invalidates the student to get a final mark of "No Available". The student's command of English will be taken into account when marking all exercises and for the final mark. It will count as 25% of this mark for all the exercises.

* Re-assessment conditions: Students whose final average mark is 4,5 to 4,9 and who have completed Continuous Assessment may take re-assessment. This consists of a two-hour written exam on matters related to the subject. The exam is awarded a Pass/Fail mark and the maximum possible final mark is a 5. The quiz and the exam may be re-assessed for justified medical reasons.

VERY IMPORTANT : Partial or total plagiarising will immediately result in a FAIL (0) for the plagiarised exercise (first-year students) or the WHOLE (second-, third- and fourth-year students). PLAGIARISING consists of copying text from unacknowledged sources -whether this is part of a sentence or a whole text - with the intention of passing it off as the student's own production. It includes cutting and pasting from internet sources, presented unmodified in the student's own text. Plagiarising is a SERIOUS OFFENCE. Students must respect author's intellectual property, always identifying the sources they may use; they must also be responsible for the originality and authenticity of their own texts.
