Objectives and Contextualisation

The Final Year Project (FYP) involves undertaking a research project or producing innovative work in a professional area related to the Degree in Primary Education.

FYPs may be developed in various formats -students may decide to complete research or present a proposal for innovation contextualised in the educational setting where they completed their work placements, or they may choose a different context. Alternatively, students may choose to produce an in-depth analysis of, or a report on, a specific or general topic. Therefore, two work alternatives are envisaged: a project linked to work placement completed by the students (whether on their 4th year or other) or a project without any direct link to work placement.

Skills

- Design and regulate learning spaces in contexts of diversity that take into account gender equality, equity and respect for human rights and observe the values of public education.
- Develop autonomous learning strategies.
- Develop critical thinking and reasoning and understand how to communicate effectively both in ones own languages and in a foreign language.
- Generate innovative and competitive proposals in research and in professional activity.
- Reflect on classroom experiences in order to innovate and improve teaching work. Acquire skills and habits for autonomous and cooperative learning and promote it among pupils.
- Respect the diversity and the plurality of ideas, people and situations.
- Understand models of quality improvement with application to schools.

Learning outcomes

1. Conceive innovation as part of professional development and continuing education.
2. Critically analyse and evaluate teaching and learning situations from the perspective of the inclusive school.
3. Critically analyse the educational reality observed in order to propose improvements from an innovative perspective.
4. Describe and explain the facts and situations related to observed and experienced teaching and learning. Interpret, compare and argue based on ones own criteria.
5. Design and regulate learning spaces in contexts of diversity that attend to gender equality, equity and respect for human rights as involved in the values of public education.
6. Develop strategies for autonomous learning.
7. Discuss different points of view in a reasoned and documentary manner and know how to find connections and commonalities.
8. Permanently learn and think critically as teachers, making use of shared research-action processes to improve and innovate in teaching.
9. Understand models of quality improvement with application to schools.

Content

FYP contents will depend on the topic chosen. The tutor will offer students guidance on the specific contents that are most suited to their chosen topic.

In consultation with their tutors, students will choose their preferred FYP format from among the following options:

- PERSONALIZED OPTION
  - Formulation of an intervention project in a given context. This option involves developing a proposal for an educational or socio-educational action in a given context, starting from a diagnostic study of said context. This option includes the design and/or implementation of a project in a professional setting and/or the implementation and evaluation of an existing project (that is, the student would need to implement an existing project, evaluate the results and draw specific conclusions). FYPs contextualised in educational settings where students conducted their work placements may include the contextual analysis previously performed for the work placement, but under no circumstances will students be able to reproduce or replicate interventions that were part of their work placements.
- RESEARCH OPTION
  - Research proposal on a given topic. This option involves producing an in-depth analysis on a given topic, and must include a theoretical framework, research hypotheses or objectives, and an empirical part with results, discussion and conclusions. It must also include a section on methodology and basic research techniques (search for, selection and use of tools required to collect, analyse and interpret information).
  - In-Depth analysis of a specific theoretical concept. This option involves conducting a theoretical study (an essay or monograph), which includes a theoretical, critical or comparative analysis as the basis for an in-depth exploration or argumentation of a given topic. This option must also include an extensive literary review on the topic under study, as well as a clear discussion of the theoretical framework and available knowledge on the issue.

Methodology

Supervisors will offer students strategic advice and guidance throughout the duration of the FYP.

Students will conduct their FYP autonomously.

Activities

Title	Hours	ECTS	Learning outcomes
