Use of languages

Principal working language: english (eng)
 Some groups entirely in English: Yes
 Some groups entirely in Catalan: No
 Some groups entirely in Spanish: No

Prerequisites

The subject is taught and assessed entirely in English. A Proficiency level of English or similar (C1) is required.

Students need to keep an open mind on gender-related issues and avoid expressing opinions in any way disrespectful of any gender identity and sexual orientation.

Objectives and Contextualisation

On completion of the subject and in relation to gender and its fictional representation in anglophone texts, the student will be able to:

- Participate at a C1 level in English on virtual and presencial debates
- Write argumentative texts expressing an opinion, generating academic criticism and raising social awareness
- Offer oral presentations at C1 level in English

Skills

English Studies

- Critically assessing the scientific, literary and cultural production in the English language.
- Demonstrate a comprehension of the relationship between factors, processes and phenomena of linguistics, literature, history and culture, and explaining it.
- Develop critical thinking and reasoning and knowing how to communicate effectively both in your mother tongue and in other languages.
- Distinguish and contrast the various theoretical and methodological models applied to the study of the English language, its literature and its culture.
- Effectively working individually or in teams in multicultural and interdisciplinary environments in English and other languages, applying values of a culture of peace, and the characteristic democratic values of a degree in a foreign language that trains the student for intercultural communication.
- Generate innovative and competitive proposals in research and professional activities.
- Identify the main literary, cultural and historical currents in the English language.

- Produce clear and well structured and detailed texts in English about complex topics, displaying a correct use of the organisation, connection and cohesion of the text.
- Respect the diversity and plurality of ideas, people and situations.
- Rewrite and organize information and arguments coming from several sources in English and presenting them in a coherent and summarised way.
- Students can apply the knowledge to their own work or vocation in a professional manner and have the powers generally demonstrated by preparing and defending arguments and solving problems within their area of study.
- Students must be capable of communicating information, ideas, problems and solutions to both specialised and non-specialised audiences.
- Students must develop the necessary learning skills in order to undertake further training with a high degree of autonomy.
- Students must have and understand knowledge of an area of study built on the basis of general secondary education, and while it relies on some advanced textbooks it also includes some aspects coming from the forefront of its field of study.
- Utilising new technologies in order to capture and organise information in English and other languages, and applying it to the personal continued training and to the problem-solving in the professional or research activity.
- Working in an autonomous and responsible way in a professional or research environment in English or other languages, in order to accomplish the previously set objectives.

Evaluation

ASSESSMENT

The final mark for this subject is based on:

1. Exam (500-word essay) on a topic chosen by the student and validated by the teacher from: Victoria Robinson & Diane Richardson (eds.). Introducing Gender and Women's Studies. Houndmills, Basingstoke, Hampshire: Palgrave Macmillan, 2008. 25%
2. Paper proposal for a paper on a topic or text connected with the gender issues dealt with in class, to be chosen among the set texts (alternative proposals may be submitted) = 10%
3. 'Paper' (2,500 words, quotations from 5 valid secondary sources -academic monographs, chapter books, articles in journals) = 50%
4. Class participation = 15%

Please, note:

*Students must follow continuous assessment and complete all exercises.

*The student's command of English will be taken into account when marking all exercises and for the final mark. It will count as 25% of this mark for all the exercises and will be assessed as follows:

Grammar (morphology and syntax): 30%

Vocabulary (accuracy and variety): 15%

Cohesion (among sentences and paragraphs): 15%

Organization (sound argumentation of ideas): 20%

Style (expression and register): 15%

Spelling: 5%

Reviewing procedure: Students have a right to review their exercises with the teacher in a personal tutorial, on the set dates, never later than 2 weeks after the exercise/exam is marked, including re-assessment. The student loses this right if s/he fails to collect the exercise/exam within the period announced by the teacher.

Re-assessment conditions: Students may only re-assess the paper, following the teacher's instructions, and on condition that they have obtained at least a 4. Reassessment based on a Pass/Fail mark and the maximum possible final mark in this case is a 5.

VERY IMPORTANT: Partial or total plagiarising will immediately result in a FAIL (0) for the plagiarised exercise (first-year subjects) or the WHOLE SUBJECT (second-, third- and fourth-year subjects). PLAGIARISING consists of copying text from unacknowledged sources -whether this is part of a sentence or a whole text- with the intention of passing it off as the student's own production. It includes cutting and pasting from internet sources, presented unmodified in the student's own text. Plagiarising is a SERIOUS OFFENCE.

Students must respect authors' intellectual property, always identifying the sources they may use; they must also be responsible for the originality and authenticity of their own texts.
