Evaluation

The evaluation of the course will be based on the following tests:

- a) 50% of final grade comes from an examination, after theoretical lectures given by teacher, usually the last day before Christmas leave. Grades will be available one week after, or after Christmas leave. Students could ask for a individual supervision session to review the examination, and ask about the criteria used to correct it.

b) 10% of the final grade is based on a writing paper with a comment about one reading. The score will be given automatically to all students when timing is accomplished. If the paper doesn't fit with the minimum of quality, the teacher will give explanations about that.

c) 40% of the final grade comes from a group assignment and an oral presentation. All group assignment will be commented by the teacher in seminars.

To pass de course the student must have submitted all evaluation evidences, and pass the a and c evidences. If one student fails some of these evidences and has attended more than 80% of the sessions, he/she will be entitle to submit alternative assignments, based on individual work to be assigned according to the previous assessment.
