Objectives and Contextualisation

This is a first-year course, first semester, therefore the contents may be considered as basic.

The subject provides the fundamental instruments of the economic analysis that must allow us to analyze and understand the social reality of a country. Within this framework, students must be able to use the economic analysis to understand the main facts that characterize the economy of a country, especially in relation to the labor market and socio-labor policies.

The training objectives of the subject can be summarized in the following points:

1. Having the basic theoretical knowledge of micro and macroeconomics
2. Know the fundamental economic institutions
3. To be able to make a critical analysis of the current economic reality
4. Demonstrate the acquisition of knowledge through written and oral expression, both individually and in groups.

The content of the subject will be sensitive to aspects related to the gender perspective.
