

Social Psychology for Analysis and Intervention

Code: 102534
 ECTS Credits: 6

Degree	Type	Year	Semester
2502443 Psychology	OT	4	1

Contact

Name: Eduard Moreno Gabriel

Email: Eduardo.Moreno@uab.cat

Use of languages

Principal working language: catalan (cat)

Some groups entirely in English: No

Some groups entirely in Catalan: No

Some groups entirely in Spanish: No

Prerequisites

It is advisable to have previously taken: "The social dimension of the person" and "Social influence and groups."

Objectives and Contextualisation

Hitherto, the student will have approached Social Psychology from a general point of view, will be familiar with the theoretical and methodological perspectives most commonly used in the analysis of psychosocial processes, and will have acquired the necessary competencies for their application to everyday life.

The goal of this subject is to introduce the most innovative theoretical perspectives emerging in the last decades within the area of Social Psychology and Social Sciences in general, and apply them critically to the analysis of psychosocial phenomena.

Content

1. Roots and contemporary developments of theoretical perspectives in social psychology
 1. Symbolic interaction
 2. Social representations and imaginaries.
3. Social constructionism
 1. The role of language in social sciences
 2. Social construction of reality
 3. Discursive Psychology.
5. New approaches to the study of psychosocial phenomena
 1. Ideology
 2. Power relations
 3. Gender and performativity.
7. The impact of social studies on science and technology
 1. Science, Technology and Society
 2. Social Studies of Science and Technology
9. New theoretical perspectives in Social Psychology