Methodology

TEACHING METHODOLOGY:

We will try to take into account the gender perspective - as the rule tell us to write it - accross the whole program.

THEORY

The theory classes will alternate debates around previously read texts and master classes.

PRACTICES:

1. Individual ones:

- Write an in-depth report on a conflict of political current affairs
- Prepare 5 brief informative news texts.

2. Teams of 3 or 4 members will deploy a group task: Analyze current conflicts and the coverage of the media and make a presentation to the class.

CALENDAR: theoretical and practical sessions will be planned in consecutives blocs in three consecutives days: preparation, execution and evaluation.

Activities

Title	Hours	ECTS	Learning outcomes
Type: Directed
laboratory practical sessions	21	0.84	9, 8, 4, 6, 10, 7, 11

Evaluation

Evaluation:

Of the theoretical part: the mark will be a function of the written summary of the debate in class and the intervention of the student about the texts they had read. This mark will be worth 30% of the final grade. The summary will be turn in the last week of the course, but every four sessions there will be a evaluation of the discussion.

Of the brief individual texts, the average mark will be worth 30% of the final mark. The evaluation of the articles will take place the week following the delivering of the student.

Of the report in depth, the mark will be worth 30% of the final mark. It will mark at the end of the course.

Of the analysis of the conflict, the mark will be worth 10% of the final mark. It will take place the day it happens upon a calendar organized in the third week of the course.

Review of the marks will take place continuously at any time in tutorial sessions.

Re-evaluation:

Those who do not pass, can give up or write a new report and if it is ok, it will obtain a mark good enough to be approved.
