Objectives and Contextualisation

On successfully completing this subject, students will be able to:

1. Demonstrate knowledge of the main schools, authors and themes of Music Aesthetics from the Renaissance to the end of the 20th century.
2. Comment a text (ancient or modern) of aesthetic nature.
3. Connect the main concerns of Music Aesthetics (Renaissance-Present times) with the historical development of music styles.
4. Put into context the evolution of Music Aesthetics within the history of Music Theory, Philosophy and Art History.
5. Highlight the role of Women writers in Music Aesthetics during the Early Modern and Modern Ages.

Competences

- Developing critical thinking and reasoning and communicating them effectively both in your own and other languages.
- Recognise trends in thinking, in all its orders, in relation to music.
- Students must be capable of applying their knowledge to their work or vocation in a professional way and they should have building arguments and problem resolution skills within their area of study.

Learning Outcomes

1. Commenting on literary texts, applying the acquired tools and taking into account the historical and sociocultural context.
2. Develop a critical capacity for interpreting musical texts of an aesthetic nature.
3. Develop habits for transfer to the ambit of musical dissemination and information the musical training acquired.
4. Evaluate the evolution of the aesthetics of music from a diachronic perspective.
5. Identifying normative, stylistic or argumentative errors in a text.

6. Identifying the main and secondary ideas and expressing them with linguistic correctness.
7. Integrate knowledge acquired in the production of clear and concise appropriate to the academic and specialist communication.
8. Make predictions and inferences on the adscription of the content of a text to a certain aesthetic trend.
9. Making predictions and inferences about the content of a text.
10. Organise the content of an aesthetic musical text, identifying the main and secondary ideas .
11. Produce correct, precise and clear argumental and terminological writing of knowledge acquired, both in the area of musical specialisation and dissemination.
12. Relate msucical creation and reception to the aesthetic and literary foundation of each period.
13. Structure ideas taking into account the different parts of an academic text.
14. Use strategies which help to plan and develop ideas and to summarise and evaluate the written text.

Content

This subject is structured into the following units:

1. Music Theory in the the 15th Century: Tinctoris, Ramos de Pareja, Gaffurio.
2. Musica reservata and musica poetica.
3. Music and Text in the early Baroque period: the beginning of Opera and the Artusi/Monteverdi polemics.
4. The concept of 'music style' and stylistic classifications during the 17th century.
5. The Beautiful and the Sublime as aesthetic cathegories along the 18th century: from Joseph Addison to Friedrich Schiller.
6. Music and Language: the Querelle des Bouffons and the theories on the (shared) origin of Music and Language skills.
7. Kant's Music Aesthetics and its German context in the 18th century.
8. The Romantic twist: Preromanticism and the Aesthetics of Feeling.
9. Towards a Aesthetics of Form: Eduard Hanslick.
10. Musicians-philosophers / philosophers-musicians: Richard Wagner, Friedrich Nietzsche.
11. The aesthetic grounds of Avant-garde trends in the early 20th century.
12. The possibility of a Sociology of Music: from Max Weber to Theodor Wiesegrun Adorno.
13. 'New Music' and new ways of 'thinking about music' after the Second World War.
14. Music and (Post)modernism(s).

Methodology

- Lectures will offer a general aesthetic introduction into the contents of each unit, and will be complementary with the analytical comment of a selection of representative texts and/or music examples. At the beginning of each unit, a short anthology of texts will be provided (through the subject's Campus Virtual); its reading and comment is the main autonomous task of the student, as they will be discussed as a regular in-class activity.

- In early February, a Campus Virtual will be opened as the only repository of the teaching materials and links needed for the preparation of the subject, according to its general schedule and to the legal © regulations. In this sense, this Campus Virtual is the reference space for the activities of the subject and for the communications related to it; any question concerning the subject is to be submitted, therefore, through Campus Virtual's mail and the lecturer will not answer enquiries sent to his main E-mail address.

Activities

Title	Hours	ECTS	Learning Outcomes
Type: Directed
Theoretical and practical sessions	43.5	1.74	1, 11, 2, 9, 8, 5, 6, 7, 10, 14
Type: Supervised

Assessment

Assessable activities are as follows:

- Intermediante exam (Text commentary) [April, 2, 2020].
- Final exam [Last week of May 2020].
- Review of a musicological essay or book chapter, chosen from a selection which will be proposed to the students, through the subject's Campus Virtual, by mid March 2020. At this moment, additional information on the task's deadline and main features (length, layout...) will be provided.

All assessment activities are obligatory and independent. Following the academic schedule established by the Faculty, students may retake assessment activities they have failed or compensate for any they have missed, provided that those they have actually performed account for a minimum of 60% of the subject's final mark, and after discussing this possibility with the lecturer. The highest mark for these retaken activities is 6.

When publishing final marks prior to recording them on students' transcripts, the lecturer will provide written notification of a date and time for reviewing assessment activities. Students must arrange reviews in agreement with the lecturer.

In the event of the assessment activities a student has performed accounting for just 30% or less of the subject's final mark, their work will be classified as "not assessable" on their transcript.

Assessment Activities
