Methodology

66.67% of the credits (33 hours) are theoretical and 33.33% (16.5 hours) practical. Theory will be taught through lectures. Lecturers introduce the topics encouraging students's participation through questions and observations. In each topic presentation of contents is accompanied by the analysis and reasoning of the methods applied.

The practical part consists of problem solving (with and without software), analysis of financial market and corporate information, and selected readings. This subject counts with at least 4 lab hours.

Students are expected to participate actively by solving exercises and analysing published information, especially financial websides. Problem solving in the classroom insists on the usage of software (especially spreadbooks).

Assessment

The evaluation of Finance I consists of a continuous evaluation process formed by three activities based on two different typologies.

The final exam weights 50% and the other two activities - exercises, essays, case studies, questionnaires, individual or group presentations, etc. - weight 25% each. If deemed appropriate, the lecturer may require other activities to complement the learning process.

The final grade of the subject is the weighted average of the marks earned in the three activities that constitute the continuous evaluation according to the weights quoted above.

If this weighted average is equal to or higher than 5.0, the student has passed the subject.

The retake-exam evaluates the whole contents of the subject in a new exam to be written following the rules of the Faculty of Economics and Business.
