5. Make predictions and inferences about the content of written and oral documents in French (Level A2).

6. Organize the content of a text and an oral or written discourse and change the style and vocabulary according to the situation of communication (Level A2).
7. Solving problems autonomously.
8. Use strategies in order to help oral expression in French (Level A2).
9. Use strategies in order to help the reading and comprehension in French (Level A2).

Content

The course aims to develop a series of competencies not only linguistic but also sociocultural as well as an aptitude to learn to learn. The development of these competences is carried out through the oral and written practice of language that encompasses all its aspects (communicative, grammatical, lexical...). The different functional, linguistic and cultural objectives will be structured around three main axes: description, storytelling and argumentation.

The student will get the following competencies:

- Describe people, mood and physical states and describe objects, situations and actions. - Locate and place in space. - Narrate and ask about a fact or event. - Compare the present and the Past. - Express ignorance or knowledge of a fact. - Ask for and give information about tastes, a state or physical sensation - Express agreement, disagreement and preferences - Request and give instructions - Ask and express the meaning of a word or expression...

Methodology

The subject of French Instrumental I is instrumental and essentially practical. The emphasis will be on the training activities and the active participation of the students in order to achieve the competencies provided for in this teaching guide.

In general terms, learning will be carried out through the following set of techniques and actions:

- Master class with ICT support and collective discussion
- Written and oral expression practice in French language
- Analysis of grammatical phenomena
- Comprehensive reading of texts
- Performing individual and group exercises both written and oral (letters, narratives, descriptions...; debates, dialogues, exhibitions on a specific topic...)
- Conducting autonomous activities: notebook exercises, test preparation, readings, writings, searching for information on the internet...
- Making schematics, concept maps and summaries
- Class exchanges (teacher - student, student-student)
- Grammar, written/oral expression and written/oral comprehension tests.

It will work with authentic documents in the French language.

Assessment

Assesment is continuous. Students must provide evidence of their progress by completing tasks and tests. Task deadlines will be indicated in the course schedule on the first day of class.

Related matters

The above information on assessment, assessment activities and their weighting is merely a guide. The subject's lecturer will provide full information when teaching begins.

Review

When publishing final marks prior to recording them on students' transcripts, the lecturer will provide written notification of a date and time for reviewing assessment activities. Students must arrange reviews in agreement with the lecturer.

Missed/failed assessment activities

Students may retake assessment activities they have failed or compensate for any they have missed, provided that those they have actually performed account for a minimum of 66.6% (two thirds) of the subject's final mark and that they have a weighted average mark of at least 3.5. Under no circumstances may an assessment activity worth 100% of the final mark be retaken or compensated for. Some tasks cannot be repeated (class participation, oral presentations, class exercises). Students cannot apply for recovery to improve grade. On the other hand, it is necessary to have approved both oral and written.

The lecturer will inform students of the procedure involved, in writing, when publishing final marks prior to recording them on transcripts. The lecturer may set one assignment per failed or missed assessment activity or a single assignment to cover a number of such activities.

Classification as "not assessable"

In the event of the assessment activities a student has performed accounting for just 30% or less of the subject's final mark, their work will be classified as "not assessable" on their transcript.

Misconduct in assessment activities

Students who engage in misconduct (plagiarism, copying, personation, etc.) in an assessment activity will receive a mark of "0" for the activity in question. In the case of misconduct in more than one assessment activity, the students involved will be given a final mark of "0" for the subject.

Students may not retake assessment activities in which they are found to have engaged in misconduct. Plagiarism is considered to mean presenting all or part of an author's work, whether published in print or in digital format, as one's own, i.e. without citing it. Copying is considered to mean reproducing all or a substantial part of another student's work. In cases of copying in which it is impossible to determine which of two students has copied the work of the other, both will be penalised.

Particular cases: French-speaking students will have to meet the same evaluation conditions as other students. Responsibility for monitoring training and evaluation activities rests solely with the student.
