Prerequisites

Generic requirements are required to take the master's degree and have the corresponding reflective and investigative capacity to perform a written work that culminates said studies.

Objectives and Contextualisation

The TFM must be original. The research topic is left to the free choice of the student and after the approval of the teacher who accepts your address. Both persons will always work in agreement and will set the pace of work, debate and correction sessions, as well as the corresponding advice. This work must account for the competences acquired after the studies carried out during the Master and demonstrate their aptitude for the choice of topics of relevance, the ability to develop them and know how to prepare their own proposal in this regard. Upon completion of the master's degree, the work will show that the students have been properly trained in the approaches, perspectives and work methods studied in the modules and know how to account for such learning by showing it in the writing of a text that highlights the objectives basic training of the Master.

Competences

- Apply the different theoretical and generic models to text analysis and interpretation.
- Interpret, in accordance with the principal analysis methodologies, the thematic and symbolic contents of the work in terms of its rhetorical and pragmatic strategies.
- Organise, plan and manage projects.

- Present research findings to experts and non-experts.
- Reason critically based on analysis and synthesis.
- Work in an interdisciplinary team in different contexts.
