Objectives and Contextualisation

This module explores the impact of globalization processes on education systems and educational policies on an international scale. Its objectives are to familiarize students with the main actors involved in the definition of the global educational agenda, identify the main policies and educational reforms that expand and standardize on a global scale and highlight its main effects on social and educational inequalities and on poverty. The module will explore current debates on globalization, poverty and inequality as a key element to situate and understand the global education agenda. Specific policies will be analyzed in the areas of the privatization of education, accountability, the fight against poverty or compensatory policies. Students at the end of this course should be able to understand the link between policy paradigms and their consequences for the planning of educational policies and the formulation of policies.

Competences

- Design, implement and evaluate social policies and processes for resource redistribution and improvement of citizens' welfare, in different contexts and from a European perspective.
- Recognise the main economic, political, social and cultural transformations of complex societies in order to analyse the fundamental challenges they pose to equality and welfare.
- Work individually and in multidisciplinary, international teams.

Learning Outcomes

1. Analyse the political and social processes that affect education policies at the local, national and global levels of social action.
2. Apply theoretical knowledge of education policies to international case studies.
3. Design and assess the impacts of education policies pursued by governments, regions and international bodies.
4. Identify and analyse the interactions between education and all facets of human development and multi-dimensional poverty.
5. Link the concepts used to analyse globalisation and its implications for education to general theories of development.
6. Work individually and in multidisciplinary, international teams.

Methodology

The methodology will combine master classes and practical exercises.

The students must attend previously prepared sessions, having made the mandatory readings and, where appropriate, preparing the practical sessions individually or collectively.

The practical sessions will consist of debates, case analysis, role-play and other participatory methodologies.

Activities

Title	Hours	ECTS	Learning Outcomes
Type: Directed
