- Morphosyntactic, lexical, textual grammar and orthographic knowledge, knowledge of extralinguistic features.

Methodology

TRANSLATION

-Consolidate exercise resolution techniques

- Deepen the tasks related to translation

-Consolidate problem solving techniques

-Deepen collective learning techniques

The contents of the subject will be worked on in class in a practical way. The students will prepare the exercises and translations at home and will be controlled in class.

Translations, which must be submitted on paper, will not be accepted after this date.

LANGUAGE

The German Foreign Language (DaF) skills will be broadened and deepened and the specific skills required for translation will be developed: On the one hand, the global competences and communicative skills of the foreign language, on the other hand, the special linguistic competences in German as the working language for translation, with special emphasis on those which are of pragmatic, intercultural and contrastive (CA) relevance for translation, heuristics or instrumental for language learning (kulturpaarspezifische pragmatische Kompetenz, Lernfertigkeiten, Instrumentale Fertigkeiten).

The subject is developed by working with and on texts as well as exercises from the book Mittelpunkt B1+ (Klettverlag).

Training activities

The abovementioned texts shall be applied for the abovementioned purposes:

- the development of strategies and methods of reading and textual comprehension;

- the development of strategies and methods of textual analysis (linguistics and grammar of text, translation analysis),

- the treatment of typical linguistic and intercultural problems manifested in current texts, followed by grammar tasks or exercises and/or performative or corresponding detection tasks;

- the systematization of the textual synthesis and the bases of linguistic mediation by means of periphrases, reformulation or explanation of the textual contents;
- the improvement of textual production in German (production of concrete copies following text models) and the revision of defective texts;

Following the German didactic method known as Lerner- und Handlungsorientierter Unterricht applied to the Teaching of German as a Foreign Language (DaF) for translation and interpretation, tasks based on the processing of authentic and current texts can be modified during the course, either according to the topicality of the texts or according to the specific didactic needs of the students, detected by means of continuous formative evaluation or diagnostic evaluation. The progressive definition and the quantity (between 4 and 10 activities) of the concrete works will therefore depend on the concrete didactic needs of the students, without exceeding the total of the stipulated hours.

The nature of the subject is theoretical-practical. It will deal with the basics of textual analysis (linguistic and translational), reception and textual production in German. The student must demonstrate that he or she possesses and understands knowledge of the basic methodological principles governing translation, the basic professional and instrumental aspects, and the basic problems of contrastivity in the language combination.

This knowledge will be applied to solving translation problems of specialized genres from various fields of specialization, to integrating knowledge to make judgments on issues related to the translation of specialized genres from various fields of specialization and to transmit information and ideas, raise problems and offer solutions regarding the translation of specialized genres.

Assessment

Revision

At the time of giving the final grade prior to the report, the faculty will communicate in writing a date and time of review. The review of the different evaluation activities will be agreed between the teaching staff and the students.

Recovery

Make-up is available to students who have presented themselves to activities the weight of which equals

66.6% (two-thirds) or more of the final grade and who have obtained a weighted grade of 3.5 or more.

At the time of giving the final grade prior to the course report, the teachers will communicate in writing the recovery procedure. The teaching staff may propose a recovery activity for each activity suspended or not presented or may group different activities.

Consideration of "not evaluable".

A "non-assessable" will be assigned when the assessment evidence provided by the student equals no more than one-fourth of the total grade for the subject.

Irregularities in assessment activities

In case of irregularity (plagiarism, copying, impersonation, etc.) in an evaluation activity, the rating of this evaluation activity will be 0. In case of irregularities in various evaluation activities, the final grade of the subject will be 0.

Evaluation activities in which irregularities have occurred (such as plagiarism, copying, impersonation) are excluded from recovery.
