Objectives and Contextualisation

This course aims to provide the student with the necessary resources to carry out the linguistic analysis of current oral and written documents in French.

At the end of the course the student must know how to analyze:

- The enunciative dimension of an oral or written text, that is the extent to which responsibility for the statements is assumed, together with questions of point of view (the locus of the alternation of "voices").
- The thematic progression and text cohesion, coherence and connexity.
- The sequences' and text organisational structures.

Competences

English and French

- Applying the characteristic scientific methodologies of the different fields of French applied linguistics.
- Develop critical thinking and reasoning and knowing how to communicate effectively both in your mother tongue and in other languages.
- Master the French language in a professional level and knowing the techniques and methods in order to achieve the maximum capacity in oral and written expression.
- Respect the diversity and plurality of ideas, people and situations.
- Students must be capable of communicating information, ideas, problems and solutions to both specialised and non-specialised audiences.

- Students must develop the necessary learning skills in order to undertake further training with a high degree of autonomy.
- Students must have and understand knowledge of an area of study built on the basis of general secondary education, and while it relies on some advanced textbooks it also includes some aspects coming from the forefront of its field of study.
- Students must know the methodology and terminology associated to the linguistic analysis of the French language.

Assessment

Procedure for reviewing grades awarded: On carrying out each evaluation activity, lecturers will inform students of the procedures to be followed for reviewing all grades awarded, and the date on which such a review will take place.

In the event of a student committing any irregularity that may lead to a significant variation in the grade awarded to an assessment activity, the student will be given a zero for this activity, regardless of any disciplinary process that may take place. In the event of several irregularities in assessment activities of the same subject, the student will be given a zero as the final grade for this subject.

Special cases: French-speaker students must meet the same conditions of assessment than the rest of students. Responsibility for the follow-up of training and assessment activities falls exclusively on the student.

"No available": A final mark of "No available" can only be obtained if the student has completed a maximum of 40% of the course assessment.

Reassessment: Only students who have passed at least 66% of the course evaluation are eligible for reassessment. Reassessment consists of a final oral and/or written exam. The assignments and homework exercises are excluded from reassessment.

In the event that tests or exams cannot be taken onsite, they will be adapted to an online format made available through the UAB's virtual tools (original weighting will be maintained). Homework, activities and class participation will be carried out through forums, wikis and/or discussion on Teams or equivalent, etc. Lecturers will ensure that students are able to access these virtual tools, or will offer them feasible alternatives.
