Objectives and Contextualisation

The Master's Degree's Dissertation (Treball de Fi de Màster, TFM) is the main tool to prove the achievement of the competencies associated with the degree. In this way, the TFM is conceived in order to allow a general and synthetic assessment of the degree's specific and transversal competencies, by means of a research work that demonstrates the student's ability to apply them to his/her forthcoming teaching, researching or performing tasks. It will show, therefore, the achievement of contents, strategies, resources and methodological tools suitable to express the results of research in a proper and correct structural and terminological way.

Henceforth, the formation aims of the TFM are the following:

- Initiating the student in the development of an unpublished research.
- Carrying out an academic research project, in a full way and according to the more recent and normative methodological standards.
- Knowing the researching problems, through the development of practical tasks.

Content

Musicology and Music Education line

The TFM's topic will be original, or a full critical revision of previous researches -together with a reasoned reworking proposal-, within an already established research line and according to the contents dealt with in the different subjects of the Master.

The written version of the TFM will have an average length of 21.000-27.000 words (70-90 pages, 2.100 symbols each page), excepting acknowledgements, personal motivation, bibliography, and additional informative annexes (figures, graphics, etc.) and documentary addenda. It will use a standard font size and style (Times New Roman-Garamond-Calibri-Arial, 11/12) in its main text [size 10/11 for footnotes], as well as a 1.5 line spacing.

Early Music Performance line

For the Early Music Performance line, students must choose one instrument whose speciality is covered by the teachers of the Escola Superior de Música de Catalunya. The concert must use that instrument as the main component.

Written thesis

- Possible languages for the written TFM are Catalan, Spanish and English.

- The minimum required length of the written text is 83,000 characters with spaces ie 13,500 words, bibliography and attachments aside. It is recommended to provide an extension higher than the minimum requirement.
- If the thesis is written by more than one author, the minimum length will be 50 pages.
- A complete bibliography and table of sources are key elements to support the written thesis.
- The format and style instructions for the thesis will be specified in the file delivered on the first day of the Master's course.

Defence

- The oral defence of the project will last approximately 60 minutes and will consist of:
 - Presentation and justification (defence) of the project with a duration of 20-30 minutes.
 - Questions phase for the jury (reply).
 - Additional answers and clarifications from the student (counter-reply).

Methodology

The students will apply in their TFM the contents and methodologies approached in the different subjects of the Master, and it will be also valued the use of specific methodologies straightly connected with their research topics. Even so, each student will agree with his/her Tutor the methodology more suitable for the correct development of his/her TFM.

ACADEMIC YEAR 2020-2021 - GENERAL SCHEDULE

November 2020 [first half]: Publication (Aula Moodle) of the Tutorial assignment for each topic chosen by the student and previously communicated to the Master's coordinator. This assignment will be approved by the Comissió de Docència del Màster, on grounds of the appropriacy of the research profiles of its members, the teaching tasks of each tutor and the proper balance of docent responsibilities associated to the tutorial supervision.

If necessary (and in agreement with the assigned tutor), it is possible to develop the TFM with a co-tutor, member of other Catalan universities or higher education institutions. On the other hand, the TFM can be written in Catalan, Spanish or English, with previous agreement with the assigned tutor; other languages could be considered, only provided that the Tutor and the members of the defence jury have the required language skills for suitable supervision and assessment.

Students and tutors will establish, at the beginning of the supervision process (November 2020), the specific agenda of the development of the TFM, that can imply the revision of one or several partial versions of the text, as well as the needed tutorial meetings for the correct development of the autonomous tasks of the student.

Early June 2021: deadline for the delivery of the final version of the TFM to each tutor (concrete dates will be published on the Aula Moodle by the middle of the second semester).

After the end of the tutorial supervision, each student will provide its tutor with a final version of his/her TFM, either on paper or on electronic (.doc, .docx, .pdf, .odt) or audiovisual format, if needed.

This final delivery will be made to each tutor, as well to the coordination of the subject via Aula Moodle. On the other hand, each student will deliver a copy of his/her TFM to the members of his/her defence jury, at least 10 days in advance to its defence.

Mid-June 2021: publication of the calls of the defence juries (via Aula Moodle) and development of the defence juries (due dates: last week of June 2021).

Mid-July 2021: deadline for the record grades of the subject.

Early Music Performance line

During the first term, a Tutor shall be assigned to each student. Students will need to provide a general orientation of their Final Projects ie perform a concert with the Instrument chosen for the Master's Degree and the preparation, delivery and presentation of a research paper.

In the case of the Early Music Performance line, the student's ability to perform in public will be assessed in a concert open to the public.

Before the month of December, the tutor will be assigned to guide the student in the elaboration of their project.

During the course, the student shall present the preliminary project and several drafts on the dates specified in the file delivered on the first day of the Master's course.

Following the submission of the work, the student must defend it before a panel of experts.

The final concert of the Master's Degree can be performed in several spaces, depending on availability (usually the Master's Degree concerts are held in the Museu de la Música or in Hall 4 of the Auditorium). The concert shall be public and its format/duration which correspond to those of a professional concert.

Both the delivery of the Work and the defence and the concert can be performed during 3 periods:

- February: this option is only possible for 2nd- and 3rd-year students and must be requested in advance at the ESMUC and the UAB.
- June-July: This is the recommended option for all students.
- September: This option is possible for 1st-year students only.

Specific dates within these periods will be announced once the Master's degree has begun.

Assessment

MUSICOLOGY AND MUSIC EDUCATION LINE

The assessment of the TFM will be made by a jury (80%), through a public oral defence that will also assess the oral exposition of the results of the research (10%) and the tutor's report on the final version of the TFM and the tutorial follow-up reports (10%). The specific criteria for the assessment of the final version of the TFM vary accordingly to its thematic features; however, the following general criteria will be used: 1) Appropriacy of research objectives and methodology (25%), 2) Quality of the bibliographical research and analysis and, whenever the case, of primary sources (25%), 3) Writing correction, terminological accuracy, and respect to academic reference guidelines, 4) Quality of the layout of the final version of the TFM (25%).

Each jury will be made up by three members -teachers of the UAB's Musicology and/or Music Didactics areas or external tutors-, designed by the coordinator of the subject, who will fix also the date and time of the public defences, previously agreed with the members of each jury.

Before the publication of the jury calls, each tutor has to authorise the defence of the TFM and provide a short tutor's report on its final version, as well as a description of the tutorial follow-up process.

Once closed the public oral defence of the TFM, the jury will deliberate its assessment, whose result will be communicated to the students by the coordination of the subject. The final grade can be reviewed through the usual procedures established by the Faculty, under the joint responsibility of the tutor and the coordination of the subject. The public defence has to show the achievement of the main competencies associated with oral exposition skills, according to the following criteria: 1) Accuracy in oral expression (30%), 2) Quality of the presentation (25%), Ordered structure of the exposition (25%), Abilities of a reasoned answer to the suggestions, comments and questions proposed by the jury (20%).

OTHER REMARKS

1) As established by the Faculty, the TFM CANNOT BE REASSESED after the ordinary review process undertaken by the coordination. Any further extraordinary reviews will be developed according to the general normative established by the Faculty,

3) The "cum laude" ("Matrícula d'Honor") grade has to be unanimously and expressly proposed by the oral defence juries at the moment of signature of the jury's act. In the event that the number of "cum laude" proposals exceeds the maximum number established by the general assessment normative of the UAB, the Coordination of the Master will designate a commission made up by three members to decide the granting of the "cum laude" grade, according to these criteria:

- a. Global assessment of the TFM (up to 60%).
- b. Transcript average grade of the student in the Master (up to 20%).
- c. Proofs of the follow-up process and fulfilment of the required features, requirements and layout guidelines of the TFM (up to 20%).

EARLY MUSIC PERFORMANCE LINE

In the Early Music Performance line, students will be required to perform a public concert of the program they have elaborated.

Students will also deliver and defend a Research Thesis.

The Evaluation will be performed as follows:

- a) Instrument teacher follow-up report (10%).
- b) Presentation of a performance in a public concert with a professional format (50%). This activity will be assessed by a panel of experts that will designate the coordination of the Master.
- c) Report of the director responsible for research work (10%).
- d) Public defence of a research thesis (30%). This activity will be assessed by a panel of experts designated by the coordination of the Master (ESMUC) and will follow the description showed in the "Contents" section of this syllabus.

IMPORTANT REMARKS

In the event of a student committing any irregularity that may lead to a significant variation in the grade awarded to an assessment activity, the student will be given a zero for this activity, regardless of any disciplinary process that may take place. In the event of several irregularities in assessment activities of the same subject, the student will be given a zero as the final grade for this subject.

In the event that tests or exams cannot be taken onsite, they will be adapted to an online format made available through the UAB's/ESMUC's virtual tools (original weighting will be maintained). Homework, activities and class participation will be carried out through forums, wikis and/or discussion on Teams, etc. Lecturers will ensure that students are able to access these virtual tools, or will offer them feasible alternatives.
