18. Work in interdisciplinary teams.

Content

The structure, as well as the content of the final project, will be supervised by the tutor assigned to each student in a way that suits the chosen theme and the availability of data.

Methodology

The learning process is developed through:

- Completion of the Final Project individually following the structure agreed with the supervisor
- Continuous tutoring of the Final Project, through face-to-face or virtual tutor-student meetings
- The Final Project must be defended publicly
