Objectives and Contextualisation

The growth of international migration in European societies has become one of the most important social events and poses major challenges for public policies and models of social cohesion and coexistence. The general objective of the module is to offer analytical, conceptual and methodological tools to address these processes of economic, political and social transformation, from a comparative perspective and from the emphasis on two key axes in managing migration and diversity:

- Migration policies and control of flows and their impacts on the rights of people
- Integration policies, from the perspective of equality and redistribution, as well as from the perspective of the recognition and management of diversity and coexistence

Competences

- Aplicar l'enfocament de gènere a l'anàlisi de la relació entre mercat laboral, cures i desigualtats socials.
- Design, implement and evaluate social policies and processes for resource redistribution and improvement of citizens' welfare, in different contexts and from a European perspective.
- Recognise the main economic, political, social and cultural transformations of complex societies in order to analyse the fundamental challenges they pose to equality and welfare.
- Use and manage bibliography and IT resources in the field of study.

Learning Outcomes

1. Analyse the challenges posed by the social dynamics of migratory processes in Europe to models of integration and social exclusion processes.
2. Apply the gender perspective to the link between care work and migration patterns in Europe and to their impacts.

3. Apply the principles of public policies that tackle the integration of the immigrant population from a standpoint of equality and redistribution in societies, taking into account the peculiarities of the different welfare regimes and immigration regimes.
4. Identify gender as one of the main social relations that shape migration patterns, integration processes and the design of public policies that affect the immigrant population.
5. Use and manage bibliography and IT resources in the field of study.

Content
