Objectives and Contextualisation

This module explores the impact of globalization processes on education systems and policies at the international level. It aims to familiarise students with the main actors involved in the definition of the global educational agenda, to identify the main educational policies and reforms that are being expanded and standardised worldwide, and to highlight their main effects on social and educational inequalities. The module will explore the current debates on globalisation, poverty and inequality as a key element for situating and understanding the global education agenda. Specific policies in the field of education privatisation, accountability, the fight against poverty, educational success or compensatory policies will be analysed. Students at the end of this course should be able to understand the link between policy paradigms and their consequences for educational policy planning and policy making.

Competences

- Design, implement and evaluate social policies and processes for resource redistribution and improvement of citizens' welfare, in different contexts and from a European perspective.
- Recognise the main economic, political, social and cultural transformations of complex societies in order to analyse the fundamental challenges they pose to equality and welfare.
- Work individually and in multidisciplinary, international teams.

Learning Outcomes

1. Analyse the political and social processes that affect education policies at the local, national and global levels of social action.
2. Apply theoretical knowledge of education policies to international case studies.
3. Design and assess the impacts of education policies pursued by governments, regions and international bodies.
4. Identify and analyse the interactions between education and all facets of human development and multi-dimensional poverty.
5. Link the concepts used to analyse globalisation and its implications for education to general theories of development.
6. Work individually and in multidisciplinary, international teams.
