The course will be approved when the average of the grade obtained from the two blocks is equal to or greater than 5. The weighting of the different activities will be done according to the following table:

- The second part, which will have a value of 42 points, will be composed of 14 questions teston all the matter explained in class. Attention: there may also be questions about the topic subject of development question. Each right question will have a value of 3 points and each mistake will deduct 0.5 points.

Additional questions about the basic bibliography

Given the complexity and extent given to some subjects in the basic manual of labor law and social security, in some respects and as a complement to the explanations given in class will be posted informative documents of public administrations in the field of employment and social protection.

On the other hand, the jurisprudence of the Supreme Court and the judicial doctrine of Superior Courts of Justice worked in practical class is a useful material for the preparation of the labor part.

Complementary Bibliography on Labor Law and Social Security

The Supplementary Bibliography aims to facilitate acces to documents that addres aspects of the subject in great detail. In some cases, these are sociological studies cited in class.

It is unnecessary material for student assessment. However, it can help to resolve doubts or give a clearer view of the labor and social protection reality of the prison or ex-prison population. In other words, it aims to provide information for those students who want to answer questions about mayoral issues of complexity or be curious to consult non-legal documents cited in class.
