Methodology

Students must participate in two types of activities:

1.- Directed activities. which will be done in the classroom, consisting of:

- Lectures given by the professor, in which the theoretical contents of the course will be examined
- Seminars. Following the lectures, seminars will be devoted to work on each of the topics of the course through activities consisting of discussion on readings and case law.

2.- Autonomous activities: As a complement to the directed activities, students will work individually and in a group, through:

- a. Group work on criminal cases that will be presented in seminars.
- b. Individual essays that will be presented in seminars.

Annotation: Within the schedule set by the centre or degree programme, 15 minutes of one class will be reserved for students to evaluate their lecturers and their courses or modules through questionnaires.

Activities

Title	Hours	ECTS	Learning Outcomes
Type: Directed
Lectures	19.5	0.78	2, 3, 5, 4, 7, 8, 1, 10, 9
Seminars	19.5	0.78	5, 7, 8, 1, 10
Type: Autonomous
Individual work (reading of case law, elaboration of conceptual maps)	95	3.8	2, 3, 5, 4, 7, 6, 1, 10, 11, 9

Assessment

The evaluation model is continued. The evaluation activity will be carried out throughout the semester, so regular attendance of students in classes (80%) and the performance of the activities listed below are required.

1.- Final exam: multiple-choice exam (50%).

2.- Continuous evaluation of the most practical skills: Three individual activities of comprehensive reading of legal texts and solution of practical cases (30%) and two group activities of work of jurisprudence and resolution of practical cases (20%)

To pass the course it is necessary to obtain in all assessment, exams and individual assignments, at least a 5. If you do not attend any of the assessment activities you can only resit if the absence is justified.

Those activities that have a grade lower than 5 must be recovered. Therefore, individual re-evaluation activities will be proposed. In the event that a copy is detected during an exam, a copying student will be automatically suspended without the possibility of access to resit.

In the event of plagiarism in the drafting of papers, each case will be assessed and, in the extreme case, the option of direct suspension without the option of resit will be considered.
