Objectives and Contextualisation

The elective course "Advertising and Public Relations", whose main objective is to introduce students in the general theory of advertising and public relations, the fundamental concepts of the two disciplines, professional practice slope and the specific application to the tourism and hospitality management sectors.

Competences

- Apply the concepts related to tourism products and businesses (economy and finance, human resources, commercial policy, markets, operations and strategy) in the different parts of the sector.
- Develop a capacity for independent learning.
- Display a customer service orientation.
- Have a business vision, pinpoint the customer's needs and pre-empt possible changes in the environment.
- Implement business communication techniques used by tourism organisations: internal, external and corporate.
- Innovate in tourism: both in planning and commercialisation and in the management of organisations.
- Manage the concepts, instruments and functions related to the planning and commercialisation of tourist destinations, resources and spaces.
- Take decisions in situations of uncertainty, taking into account potential consequences of these decisions in the short, medium and long term.
- Use communication techniques at all levels.

Learning Outcomes

1. Apply the concepts related to the commercial management of products, businesses and destinations in the different parts of the tourism sector.
2. Develop a capacity for independent learning.
3. Display a customer service orientation.
4. Have a business vision, pinpoint the customer's needs and pre-empt possible changes in the environment.
5. Identify the instruments related to the commercialisation and promotion of products, businesses and regions.
6. Innovate in the commercialisation and promotion of the different sub-sectors of tourism organisations.
7. Take decisions in situations of uncertainty, taking into account potential consequences of these decisions in the short, medium and long term.
8. Use communication techniques at all levels.
9. Use the country's native languages to communicate in the tourism business.

Content

1. Introduction: basic concepts of advertising and public relations in the tourism sector and related conceptual aspects (professions, industry and legal elements)
2. Marketing communication objectives: the advertising campaign, the public relations campaign, the related targets
3. Creativity in advertising and public relations: theoretical and ideation aspects
4. From media to new media in advertising and public relations

Methodology

The subject will be based on three complementary methodologies:

Teacher's expositions, commentary and analysis of case studies in class and group work.

The main topics of the subject will be explained in the classroom, where examples and different cases will also be analyzed.

The student, individually, must look for information about a specific issue related to publicity and public relations, which will be debated in the following class. At the beginning of the following session, the professor will choose as many students as he thinks fit to expose his comments to the class.

Annotation: Within the schedule set by the centre or degree programme, 15 minutes of one class will be reserved for students to evaluate their lecturers and their courses or modules through questionnaires.
