Introductory knowledge of certain aspects of Japanese culture directly or indirectly related to the language.

Knowing how to search in a dictionary.

Methodology

Learning activities are organised into three categories based on the degree of student autonomy involved:

- Directed activities: carried out according to a set timetable and in the presence of a lecturer.
- Supervised activities: carried out under the supervision of a lecturer or tutor.
- Autonomous activities: carried out by students without supervision, requiring them to organise their own time and work (either in groups or individually).

The subject will focus on working through the textbook Shokyû Nihongo, of the University of Foreign Studies of Tokyo. The contents will be acquired from the vocabulary and kanji (ideograms) tests done in class; the analysis and the conceptualization of the new grammatical structures; reading, understanding and reformulation of dialogues, and carrying out complementary activities and specific reinforcement exercises in each lesson (writing, grammar exercises, etc.).

Given the contents and structuring of the subject, it is important for the student to attend class regularly and it is essential to regularly dedicate time each week to preparing new material, doing the exercises and revising the subject matter. This dedication on the part of the student is necessary to ensure good progress in the subject.

Annotation: Within the schedule set by the centre or degree programme, 15 minutes of one class will be reserved for students to evaluate their lecturers and their courses or modules through questionnaires.

Activities

Title	Hours	ECTS	Learning Outcomes
Type: Directed
Oral comprehension and oral interaction activities	20	0.8	5, 29, 17, 40
Oral expositions by the teacher	30	1.2	1
Reading comprehension activities	18	0.72	1, 34, 12

Written production activities	10	0.4	1, 23, 47
Type: Supervised
Supervision and review of oral and written activities	12	0.48	5, 1, 17, 47, 40
Supervision and revision of grammar and lexical exercises	12	0.48	1
Type: Autonomous
Preparation of grammar and lexical exercises	40	1.6	1
Preparation of oral and written production activities	40	1.6	23, 17, 47, 40
Preparation of reading comprehension activities	30	1.2	1, 34, 12

Assessment

Assessment is continuous. Students must provide evidence of their progress by completing tasks and tests. Tasks deadlines will be indicated in the course schedule on the first day of class.

In order to pass the subject, students will have to show they have assimilated the contents related to the Japanese language proposed during the course. To achieve this, students must pass the continuous assessment, consisting of a series of activities as detailed below.

The continuous assessment will take into account:

- 1 partial test at mid-semester (30% of the subject), which will include the contents of units 8 to 11 (grammar and vocabulary / kanji / reading comprehension / oral / written expression).
- 1 partial test at the end of the semester (30% of the subject), which will include the contents of units 12 to 15 (grammar and vocabulary / kanji / reading comprehension / oral / written expression).
- various tests and exercises done during the semester (40% of the subject): 8 vocabulary tests, 4 kanji tests, 8 comprehension exercises, 8 grammar exercises, 2 essays

Related matters

The above information on assessment, assessment activities and their weighting is merely a guide. The subject's lecturer will provide full information when teaching begins.

Review

When publishing final marks prior to recording them on students' transcripts, the lecturer will provide written notification of a date and time for reviewing assessment activities. Students must arrange reviews by agreement with the lecturer.

Missed/failed assessment activities

Students may retake assessment activities they have failed or compensate for any they have missed, provided that those they have actually performed account for a minimum of 66.6% (two thirds) of the subject's final mark and that they have a weighted average mark of at least 3.5. Under no circumstances may an assessment activity worth 100% of the final mark be retaken or compensated for.

When publishing final marks prior to recording them on transcripts, the lecturer will inform students in writing of the procedure involved. The lecturer may set one assignment per failed or missed assessment activity or a single assignment to cover a number of such activities.

Classification as "not assessable"

In the event of the assessment activities a student has performed accounting for just 25% or less of the subject's final mark, their work will be classified as "not assessable" on their transcript.

Misconduct in assessment activities

Students who engage in misconduct (plagiarism, copying, personation, etc.) in an assessment activity will receive a mark of "0" for the activity in question. In the case of misconduct in more than one assessment activity, the students involved will be given a final mark of "0" for the subject.

Students may not retake assessment activities in which they are found to have engaged in misconduct. Plagiarism is considered to mean presenting all or part of an author's work, whether published in print or in digital format, as one's own, i.e. without citing it. Copying is considered to mean reproducing all or a substantial part of another student's work. In cases of copying in which it is impossible to determine which of two students has copied the work of the other, both will be penalised.
