Methodology

Theoretical classes will present the historical structures of Latin-America and his evolution. We wil analyse the different models of the contemporary American countries in the classroom.

Supervised Activities are an individualised teaching support in which a teacher attends to one o several students in their specific educational process about American history.

Autonomous Activities represent the personal work and individual study. This includes personal study, preparing exams. library work, complementary reading, all of which are fundamental in autonomous learning.

Annotation: Within the schedule set by the centre or degree programme, 15 minutes of one class will be reserved for students to evaluate their lecturers and their courses or modules through questionnaires.

Assessment

Assessment is continuous.

There will be two exams (test 1 represented 35% and test 2 represented 35% of final mark)

The rest (30%) can be one or more written works, essay and participation in the classroom.

Reassessment

Students can not be obtained 5 of the final mark.

Consist in one exam which contains all the subject and his activities and the maximum mark is 5.

At the time of completion/delivery of each assessment activity, the teacher will inform (Moodle, SIA) of the procedure and date of revision of the grades.

The student will be classified as Non-evaluable when he has not delivered more than 30% of the evaluation activities.

In the event of a student committing any irregularity that may lead to a significant variation in the grade awarded to an assessment activity, the student will be given a zero for this activity, regardless of any disciplinary process that may take place. In the event of several irregularities in assessment activities of the same subject, the student will be given a zero as the final grade for this subject.

In the event that tests or exams cannot be taken onsite, they will be adapted to an online format made available through the UAB's virtual tools (original weighting will be maintained). Homework, activities and class participation will be carried out through forums, wikis and/or discussion on Teams, etc. Lecturers will ensure that students are able to access these virtual tools, or will offer them feasible alternatives.
