Prerequisites

1. TOURISM DEGREE: The students on the Tourism Degree will have to accredit a B2 level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) by the end of their studies.

There are no specific entry requirements but level B1 of the CEFR is recommended.

2. TOURISM DEGREE IN ENGLISH: The students on the Tourism Degree in English will have to accredit a C1 level of the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR) by the end of their studies.

There are no specific entry requirements, but a B2 level of the CEFR is recommended.

Objectives and Contextualisation

The main objective of the first course is to enable students to consolidate and widen their range of knowledge, including English pertinent to the tourism sector and of a more general nature so that they can accredit a B2 level at the end of their studies if they are studying the Tourism degree, and a C1 if they are studying Tourism in English.

At the end of the first course they should be able to:

- Follow the discourse of conferences, debates and more informal interactions.
- Maintain conversations in formal and informal register, correctly interpreting the interjections of other speakers.
- Participate in debates and discussions on issues of general interest or specifically related to tourism using the standard language for either type of communication (using correct vocabulary, giving examples, etc.)
- Relate facts or events experienced personally or reported by others.
- Convey feelings, express needs or give instructions without difficulty.

- Write emails in formal (requests for information, etc.) and informal contexts (emails to acquaintances, etc.).
- Produce texts about actions, trips and events - chronologically arranged with clear, concise descriptions of the most relevant aspects.
- Create a promotional brochure for a tourism destination.

Skills

- Develop an appropriate degree of accuracy (grammar, pronunciation, vocabulary usage, register, etc.) and fluency (production speed, ability to express ideas and develop speech).
- Develop strategies and skills to understand authentic written texts and oral presentations.
- Develop strategies to continue to learn independently outside the classroom.
- Develop the ability to function efficiently and with an appropriate degree of linguistic precision both in the field of tourism and in everyday situations.
- Be able to correctly use reference material necessary for autonomous language learning: dictionaries, grammars, online applications, etc.

Competences

- Communicate orally and in writing in three foreign languages within the tourism field and others related to it.
- Develop a capacity for independent learning.
- Implement business communication techniques used by tourism organisations: internal, external and corporate.
- Self-assess the knowledge acquired.
- Use communication techniques at all levels.
- Work in a team.

Learning Outcomes

1. Develop a capacity for independent learning.
2. Identify grammar resources used in companies as an aid to communication, in two foreign languages.
3. Identify vocabulary resources used in companies as an aid to communication, in two foreign languages.
4. Know and use two foreign languages in dealing with tourism-related matters.
5. Self-assess the knowledge acquired.
6. Use communication techniques at all levels.
7. Use the idiomatic expressions typical of the tourism sector in two foreign languages.
8. Use two foreign languages in specific real-life contexts.
9. Work in a team.

Methodology

The teaching methodology prioritises the students' learning process over theoretical presentations by the teacher. Input is provided from both graded and authentic materials and the students are encouraged to engage with the material through guided practice in all four skills, with freer interactive and communicative activities to advance oral communication skills.

The teacher will use one or more of the following methodologies depending on which he or she considers to be most suitable for the material and the students in each session:

- Presentation and practice of grammar and vocabulary.
- Discovery learning and noticing techniques.
- Task-based learning in pairs and groups.
- Problem-solving exercises in pairs and groups.
- Role plays.
- Text or listening based debates (e.g. TED talks).
- Revision games with kahoot and other applications.
- Modelling from sample texts for writing.

- Strategies to promote self-correction and autonomy in writing.
- Live learning projects.

Annotation: Within the schedule set by the centre or degree programme, 15 minutes of one class will be reserved for students to evaluate their lecturers and their courses or modules through questionnaires.

1. EVALUATION SYSTEM FOR THE DEGREE IN TOURISM

Continuous Assessment

80% attendance is required in order to be eligible for the Continuous Assessment.

Continuous Assessment activities:

- Essays. The student will be required to produce between 3 - 5 written texts over the course of their studies (rewritings of writings may also be used).
- Final Project. It will be carried out throughout the course and it will exhibit the four language skills. This project will be done at home and in class.
- Reading Record.
- Mini tests.
- Self-assessment forms..
- Various self-produced documents.

The students will be able to take advantage of the mid-term tests to produce activities that will form part of their portfolio, such as mini tests or listening or reading comprehension.

- Oral Activities. Throughout the course, the student will produce a minimum of one oral activity (or a maximum of two), either individually or in a group and in the form of monologues, presentations, videos etc.

- Mid-Term Tests. Half way through the course, the students will have two mid-term tests; a writing test (one or two tasks) and a speaking test (one task). These will be similar in format to the final exam.
- Attitude and participation. Effort, attitude and participation will also be evaluated.

Final exam: the productive skills of writing and speaking are assessed.

The exam is on the same day as the final exam.

- The continuous assessment activities represent 60% of the final mark.
- The final exam represents 40% of the final mark.

Passmark: 6 is the pass mark.

Final exam

Students who opt not to do the continuous assessment have the right to do a final exam of the two productive skills - speaking and writing.

A mark of 50% in each skill, and an overall global mark of 60%, is required to pass the course.

The final mark of the subject will be the final mark of the exam.

Resit

The resit will consist of an exam of the two productive skills - speaking and writing.

A 60% is required to pass the final mark will be the final mark of the exam.

2. EVALUATION SYSTEM FOR THE TOURISM DEGREE IN ENGLISH

Continuous Assessment

80% attendance is required in order to be eligible for the Continuous Assessment.

Continuous Assessment activities

Continuous assessment activities include:

- Essays. The student will be required to produce between 3 - 5 written texts over the course of their studies (rewritings of writings may also be used).
- Final Project. It will be carried out throughout the course and it will exhibit the four language skills. This project will be done at home and in class.

- Attitude and participation. Effort, attitude and participation will also be evaluated.

Final exam for continuous assessment students

This test, as well as forming part of the continuous assessment system, is a level test which gives the student the right to a level certificate issued by the Servei de Llengües of the UAB, and which is recognised by the Generalitat de Catalunya.

The test evaluates the four skills (reading comprehension, listening comprehension, writing and speaking) and follows the specifications set out by the Servei de Llengües of the UAB. It should be noted that this exam assesses linguistic competences in these skills and does not necessarily have a direct relationship to the contents of the course.

Students must demonstrate with this exam that they have reached the required level to pass the course (at least B2.2). If the student reaches the required level in this test, the mark is 40% of the continuous assessment mark.

The final exam for continuous assessment students will be done on the same day and time as the final exam for non-continuous assessment students.

It is essential to pass the final level test at the required level (B2 of the Common European Framework of Reference) to pass the continuous assessment.
