Prerequisites

There are no prerequisites, but it is recommended that students have passed the first-year subject Education and Educational Contexts.

Objectives and Contextualisation

The objectives of the course Social Context and School Management are:

1. Analyse the relation between social and school contexts and the social relations that occur within schools.
2. Apply the sociological perspective to the analysis of educational reality and of the different social contexts.
3. Approach to the social functions of the institution and the effects of changes (social, cultural, demographic, etc.) over education and school.
4. Understand social inequality and its effects on education and school performance.
5. Identify the variables that configure school and their interrelations.
6. Understand the relations between institutional approaches of the institution and school dynamics.
7. Understand the organizational structure of the school.
8. Analyse the main governing, participation and support bodies of school centres.
9. Analyse the spatial, temporal and material determinants and how they influence educational activity and its management.

10. Understand the importance of the relations that occur within the educational community to ensure coexistence and achieve the objectives of school.

Competences

- Act with ethical responsibility and respect for fundamental rights and duties, diversity and democratic values.
- Analysing the practice of teaching and the institutional conditions that frame it.
- Design and regulate learning spaces in contexts of diversity that take into account gender equality, equity and respect for human rights and observe the values of public education.
- Effectively address language learning situations in multicultural and multilingual contexts.
- Incorporate information and communications technology to learn, communicate and share in educational contexts.
- Know how primary schools are organised and about the diversity of actions involved in running them.
- Linking education with the environment and cooperating with families and the community.
- Recognise and evaluate the social reality and the interrelation of factors involved as a necessary anticipation of action.
- Take part in the definition of the educational project and in the general activity of the school taking into account quality management criteria.
- Take sex- or gender-based inequalities into consideration when operating within one's own area of knowledge.
- Understand the basics of primary education
- Understanding the function, possibilities and limits of education in today's society and the fundamental skills affecting primary schools and their professionals

Learning Outcomes

1. Analyse the factors affecting the organization of educational stages.
2. Analyse the sex- or gender-based inequalities and the gender biases present in one's own area of knowledge.
3. Analyse the structure and content of different institutional documents.
4. Assessing the value of a socio-educational context or scenario and making proposals for educational planning.
5. Critically analyse and incorporate the most relevant issues of today's society affecting education: social and educational impact of audiovisual languages and screens.
6. Define the elements that constitute a school as complex organization.
7. Develop a collaborative project in a team, as a first step towards networking.
8. Diagnose the socio-educational reality in schools by identifying the social factors that condition them.
9. Identify the principal forms of sex- or gender-based inequality and discrimination present in society.
10. Identifying the influence of social inequality on students and the dynamics of the educational centres.
11. Identifying the processes reproducing educational inequality (social class, gender and ethnicity).
12. Identifying the teacher's framework of autonomy and role in today's society.
13. Interpreting the data obtained from primary and secondary sources critically and drawing the appropriate conclusions.
14. Proposing specific initiatives for educational intervention in the different areas of the school.
15. Recognising the importance of the participation of families in the educational process and in institutional dynamics.
16. Recognising the social value of education and the value of diversity in order to acquire resources that encourage inclusive education and performance in multicultural contexts.
17. Reflecting on the role of teachers in contexts of social inequality and in a particular institutional framework.
18. Understand how different organizational and relational structures of the school function.
19. Understand the content and processes that affect the design of the CIP (City Education Plans).
20. Understand the organization of the education system and legislation that develops it.
21. Weigh up the impact of any long- or short-term difficulty, harm or discrimination that could be caused to certain persons or groups by the actions or projects.

Methodology

The formative activities of this course include on-site, supervised and autonomous activities:

- On-site classes are directed by the professors of the course and will take place in the facilities of the Faculty. They can be large group classes or seminars: these classes allow the exposition, reflection and debate of the main contents and discussion elements of the four blocks. The seminars are small group work spaces to analyze and debate the activities proposed by the teaching staff to complement the theoretical contents. The seminars are compulsory attendance and the students will be assigned to one of the groups scheduled at the beginning of the course.
- Supervised activities include individual or group activities to be completed by the students on their own with the supervision of the professors. These activities include the on-site or virtual tutorial sessions addressed at solving difficulties, orienting tasks and ensure the comprehension of the course contents.
- Autonomous work is carried out by the student independently and includes the preparation of readings, cases or other equivalent activities.
- Our teaching approach and assessment procedures may be altered if public Health authorities impose new restrictions on public gatherings for COVID-19.

Annotation: Within the schedule set by the centre or degree programme, 15 minutes of one class will be reserved for students to evaluate their lecturers and their courses or modules through questionnaires.

Assessment

The evaluation of the subject Social Context and School Management must allow the verification of the achievement of the identified competences. Likewise, the global design of the subject and its methodological guidelines must be kept in mind.

The evaluation of this subject is continuous and final. Por lo que se refiere a la a la evaluación continua de tipo formativo se tendrán en cuenta los diferentes bloques de contenido y su orientación general:

- In Block 1 (15%) it is necessary to carry out a cooperative work proposed in class and other evidence of monitoring the seminars. GROUP
- In Block 2 (15%) it is necessary to carry out a cooperative work proposed in class and other evidence of monitoring the seminars. GROUP
- In Block 3 (10%) it is necessary to carry out a cooperative work proposed in class and other evidence of monitoring the seminars. GROUP
- In Block 4 (10%) it is necessary to carry out a cooperative work proposed in class and other evidence of monitoring the seminars. GROUP

The note of the group work will be qualified by the individual contributions.

The final evaluation consists of two final INDIVIDUAL and summative written tests that include all the contents of the different blocks. These tests have a weight in the final evaluation of 50% (20% Block 1, 10% Block 2, 10% Block 3 and 10% Block 4). If necessary, all final assessment tests will have a second chance of recovery. The dates of the evaluations will be:

- Groups 21, 31, 41 and 71: final test Blocks 1 and 2 (after completion of Blocks I and II), final test Blocks 3 and 4 (after completion of Blocks III and IV). Recovery of Blocks 1, 2, 3 and 4 (at the end of the semester).

To pass the subject, you must have an average equal to or greater than 5. To be able to do the average with the activities, you must obtain at least 5 in each of the exams. It will be considered NOT PRESENTED (NP) when the student has failed to take any of the written tests. In relation to the other evidence of learning, when any of these is not delivered, the grade will be 0.

To pass the subject it is essential to show an attitude compatible with the educational profession. In this sense, the student must demonstrate active listening, respect, participation, cooperation and punctuality in the classroom. It is also essential to make proper use of electronic devices (mobile, computer, touch tablet, etc.) in the classroom. These devices can only be used to carry out activities related to the subject.

Attendance is compulsory. The supporting documents only serve to explain the absence, in no case do they exempt from attendance. Students who do not pass any of the exams will have the possibility of recovery on the indicated date.

The marks obtained in each of the evaluating activities will be delivered to the students by publishing results in Moodle, or in the classroom or in SIGMA. Once the grades have been delivered, the students will be able to review the grade in the hours that the teachers have for tutoring.

The notes of each one of the evaluation evidences will be made public in the virtual campus in the 20 days following its delivery. The student who wants to review the note will be able to do so within 15 days after its publication in the tutoring schedule that the teaching staff has established for this subject and that is stated in the program.

Linguistic correction, writing and formal presentation aspects will be taken into account in all activities. Students must be able to express themselves fluently and correctly and must show a high degree of understanding of academic texts. An activity can be returned (not evaluated) or suspended if teachers consider that it does not meet these requirements.

We recall that, in the case of the Catalan language, in 1st and 2nd courses students are required to have a linguistic competence equivalent to Level 1 for Infant and Primary Education Teachers; and that from the 3rd year of the Degree the students must have shown a competence equivalent to Level 2 for Early Childhood and Primary Education Teachers. Copying or plagiarism, both in the case of work and in the case of exams, constitute a crime that may represent failing the subject:

- A work, activity or exam will be considered to be "copied" when it reproduces all or part of another partner's work.
- A work or activity will be considered "plagiarized" when a part of a text by an author is presented as its own without citing the sources, regardless of whether the original sources are on paper or in digital format. More info at: https://wuster.uab.es/web_argumenta_obert/unit_20/sot_2_01.html

It is recommended to follow the APA regulations (2010, 6th version). See:
