Objectives and Contextualisation

To work the fundamental aspects of Greek and Roman art.

Provide the student with knowledge about the means of realization and production centres of classical art, recognition and understanding of their images, as well as the backgrounds in which they were placed.

Competences

- Dominate the use of specific instruments, with special attention to digital tools, for analysing the ancient world.
- Interrelate linguistic, historical and archaeological knowledge of the ancient world with knowledge of other areas of the humanities, mainly ancient literature, philosophy and art.
- Students must develop the necessary learning skills to undertake further training with a high degree of autonomy.

Assessment

Activity 1:

Exercise 1 (4 marks, 40 % of the final mark).

Activity 2:

Exercise 2 (4 marks, 40 % of the final mark).

Activity 3:

Activity chosen by the lecturer (2 marks, 20% of the final mark).

The final mark is the result of the addition of the marks obtained in all activities, but it is essential to have obtained a minimum of 2 marks in activities 1 and 2.

If the student has only done some of the compulsory activities and he/she has passed them, he/she will get a "not assessable" when the general addition does not reach the pass or a superior mark.

On the contrary, the student will get the mark that he/she has obtained. At the time of each evaluative activity, the teacher will inform the students (Moodle) of the procedure and the date of the revision of the marking.

Only the students who have not passed, but have sat for the three compulsory activities, have the right to a reassessment - the date is set by the Faculty's Academic Management. The maximum mark of this reassessment is 5.

In the event of a student committing any irregularity that may lead to a significant variation in the grade awarded to an assessment activity, the student will be given a zero for this activity, regardless of any disciplinary process that may take place. In the event of several irregularities in assessment activities of the same subject, the student will be given a zero as the final grade for this subject.

In the event that tests or exams cannot be taken onsite, they will be adapted to an online format made available through the UAB's virtual tools (original weighting will be maintained). Homework, activities and class participation will be carried out through forums, wikis and/or discussion on Teams, etc. Lecturers will ensure that students are able to access these virtual tools, or will offer them feasible alternatives.
