6. Identify the social, economic and environmental implications of academic and professional activities within one's own area of knowledge.
7. Plan and conduct academic studies in the field of the network society.
8. Propose new methods or well-founded alternative solutions.
9. Propose projects and actions that are in accordance with the principles of ethical responsibility and respect for fundamental rights and obligations, diversity and democratic values.
10. Propose projects and actions that incorporate the gender perspective.
11. Propose viable projects and actions to boost social, economic and environmental benefits.
12. Submit course assignments on time, showing the individual and/or group planning involved.

Content

1. Network Society: origin and development.
2. Study, analysis and theory of complex systems applied to society: social networks.
3. The relationship between social interactions and technology.
4. Current challenges of the network society and impact on the profession.

*** The gender perspective will be included as a transversal element in the contents of the course.

Methodology

The subject maintains a balance between the theoretical part (theoretical sessions, debates) and the practical application (applying the theoretical concepts in the analysis of the professional practice through the realization of exercises and the course project).

The detailed calendar with the content of the different sessions will be displayed on the day of the presentation of the course. It will also be posted on the Virtual Campus where students will find a detailed description of the exercises and practices, the various teaching materials and any information necessary for the proper monitoring of the subject. In the event of a change in teaching methods for health reasons, the teaching staff will inform students of the changes that will take place in the course programme and in the teaching methodologies.

Annotation: Within the schedule set by the centre or degree programme, 15 minutes of one class will be reserved for students to evaluate their lecturers and their courses or modules through questionnaires.

Activities

Title	Hours	ECTS	Learning Outcomes
Type: Directed
Practical sessions	30	1.2	2, 4, 3, 7, 12
Theoretical lessons	33	1.32	4, 3
Type: Supervised
Projects tutoring	9	0.36	7, 12
Type: Autonomous
Study and activities	20	0.8	4, 7, 12

Assessment

The evaluation activities consists:

Exam: theoretical content with 30% of the final grade

Project and oral presentation: group coursework with 35% of the final grade

Internship: completion of three internships with 35% of the final mark

Students will be entitled to make up the course if they have been assessed on all the activities, the weight of which is equivalent to a minimum of 2/3 of the total grade of the course.

The activities that are excluded from the revaluation process are the project and oral presentation (35%).

The proposed teaching methodology and assessment may undergo some modification depending on the restrictions on attendance imposed by the health authorities.

In the case of a second enrolment, students can do a single synthesis exam. The grading of the subject will correspond to the grade of the synthesis exam.

In the event that the student performs any irregularity that may lead to a significant variation of an evaluation act, this evaluation act will be graded with 0, regardless of the disciplinary process that could be instructed. In the event, that several irregularities occur in the evaluation acts of the same subject, the final grade for this subject will be 0.
