Teachers

Jordi Cerdà Subirachs

Gonzalo Ponton Gijon

Eduard Vilella Morato

Use of Languages

Principal working language: spanish (spa)

Prerequisites

No prerequisite is required to take the module.

Objectives and Contextualisation

The thread of the module is the analysis of the representation of the self and the real in Modernity and Postmod-itself in very diverse forms: the fantastic (as subversion of the real), the double motive (as subversion of identity)

the literature of the Shoah (the limits of the literary imagination, the notion of testimony, exemplary memory versus representation of the real).

Competences

- Analyse how literary tradition has been built up and the literary and cultural processes that have played a decisive role in it.
- Apply the different theoretical and generic models to text analysis and interpretation.
- Evaluate current applications of comparative literature based on the historical processes it has followed.
- Interpret, in accordance with the principal analysis methodologies, the thematic and symbolic contents of the work in terms of its rhetorical and pragmatic strategies.
- Make creative, original contributions to the comparativist study of literary and cultural texts.
- Organise, plan and manage projects.
- Present research findings to experts and non-experts.
- Reason critically based on analysis and synthesis.
- Work in an interdisciplinary team in different contexts.

Learning Outcomes

1. Apply the principles and methods of current comparativist approaches to the historical description and analysis of the two great periods studied in the module (modern and post-modern).
2. Apply theoretical and generic models from the specific perspective of comparativist, supra-national and supra-linguistic interpretation.
3. Connect the interaction between semiotic codes and artistic genres in their diachronic interplay.
4. Organise, plan and manage projects.
5. Present research findings to experts and non-experts.
6. Reason critically based on analysis and synthesis.
7. Relate literary manifestations to other cultural codes essential to each period (painting, cinema, music, comic, etc.).
8. Reveal the dominant semantic codes (themes, motifs, styles, genres, etc.)and their function and meanings, in the modern and post-modern periods.
9. Work in an interdisciplinary team in different contexts.

In the event of a student committing any irregularity that may lead to a significant variation in the grade awarded to an assessment activity, the student will be given a zero for this activity, regardless of any disciplinary process that may take place. In the event of several irregularities in assessment activities of the same subject, the student will be given a zero as the final grade for this subject.

In the event that tests or exams cannot be taken onsite, they will be adapted to an online format made available through the UAB's virtual tools (original weighting will be maintained). Homework, activities and class participation will be carried out through forums, wikis and/or discussion on Teams, etc. Lecturers will ensure that students are able to access these virtual tools, or will offer them feasible alternatives.
