Objectives and Contextualisation

The main objective of this module is to know the diversity of ways in which Children's and Young People's Literature materializes.

As part of these approach, we will analyze the function of the image in literary productions, especially those where the interest of the authors focuses on formal materialization.

We will also reflect on the evolution of the classics and poetry towards new forms with the purpose of expressing new contents.

Competences

- Contextualise professional activity in the reading habits of today's society and in the processes of school-based learning.
- Continue the learning process, to a large extent autonomously.
- Develop professional values that include ethical work practices.
- Incorporate ICT for learning, communicating and sharing in education.
- Integrate knowledge and use it to make judgements in complex situations, with incomplete information, while keeping in mind social and ethical responsibilities.
- Link up and promote reading and cultural activities, both internal and external, using the appropriate tools.
- Manage the collection, resources and services of the library.
- Use acquired knowledge as a basis for originality in the application of ideas, often in a research context.

Learning Outcomes

1. Assess bibliographic documents with due respect for text, author and genre.
2. Assess the appropriateness of formal, textual and material elements in fictional works to the age and reading context of the addressees
3. Continue the learning process, to a large extent autonomously.
4. Detect publishing values, both for graphics (illustration and layout) and for text (translation, fidelity and adaptation) and their functional use.
5. Determine the ways in which library collections can be linked up with learning and teaching.
6. Distinguish between dissemination and trivialisation and between relevance and opportunism.
7. Integrate knowledge and use it to make judgements in complex situations, with incomplete information, while keeping in mind social and ethical responsibilities.
8. Maintain a balance between the genres and types of fictional works in the school library.
9. Use ICT in research and analysis of the library's fictional works.
10. Use acquired knowledge as a basis for originality in the application of ideas, often in a research context.
11. Use the network to share educational, communicative and bibliographic strategies.
