Objectives and Contextualisation

The objective is to acquire the necessary skills to prepare and direct a civil process, in any of its modalities and from both the position of actor and the defendant.

The Civil Litigation module is subdivided, for teaching purposes, into two sub-modules:

- Civil Litigation 1 (Subjects of Civil Law and Commercial Law) Coordinator: Prof. Dra. Sandra Camacho Clavijo.
- Civil Litigation 2 (Civil procedural law) Coordinator: Dra. Nuria Reynal Querol

Each sub-module is organized and rated independently and has a value of 50%.

The final qualification of the assignee is a single note of the Civil Litigation module. It is the result of the sum between the notes of the two submodules.

In each sub-module, in order to obtain the final mark, the note obtained in the respective continuous assessment is taken into account.

Competences

- Choose the correct strategy for defending clients' rights, while keeping in mind the particular demands of each area within professional practice.
- Communicate and justify conclusions clearly and unambiguously to both specialist and non-specialist audiences.
- Integrate knowledge and use it to make judgements in complex situations, with incomplete information, while keeping in mind social and ethical responsibilities.
- Know the techniques for ascertaining the facts in different types of procedure, especially the production of documents, examination and expert evidence.
- Present facts and their corresponding legal implications orally and in writing, in a way that is appropriate to the context and the addressees and, where necessary, to the established procedures.
- Put into practice the specialist academic knowledge acquired on the degree programme in order to avoid damage, risk or conflict with respect to clients' interests or regarding professional practice before the courts and other authorities and when offering consultancy services.

Learning Outcomes

1. Apply this strategy through written and oral briefs throughout the process.
2. Communicate and justify conclusions clearly and unambiguously to both specialist and non-specialist audiences.
3. Conduct negotiations aimed at avoiding proceedings.
4. Conduct negotiations aimed at finalising the proceedings that are underway.
5. Integrate knowledge and use it to make judgements in complex situations, with incomplete information, while keeping in mind social and ethical responsibilities.
6. Master the techniques for gathering evidence.
7. Master the techniques of trial examination.
8. Plan and conduct the appropriate strategy for defending the client's legal interests.
9. Present facts and their corresponding legal implications orally and in writing, in a way that is appropriate to the context and the addressees and, where necessary, to the established procedures.

Assessment

Evaluation:

Final qualification: 50% continuous evaluation: 5 points (over 10) + 50% final exam: 5 points (over 10)

1.- Continuous evaluation:

The teaching staff of the course determines the format and the continuous evaluation activities are made known through the Virtual Campus. They can be performed in 50% of the programmed sessions, approximately.

The failure to carry out these activities, whether justified or not, is not recovered, except in very specific cases (for example, prolonged absences due to health reasons or the like)

It includes two types of activities:

A) Evaluable practical activities (writing of writs, resolution of practical cases, etc.); They are included in the course calendar and / or are notified in advance.

B) Short questionnaires (short, true or false question, question test, etc.) conducted in class on dates and times that are not previously communicated

2.- Final exam.

Test of 25 questions from each part (total of 50 questions in two exams), according to the proof of access by the Ministry of Justice (4 response options, penalizing errors with -0.33)

Only valid from a minimum of 3 (over 10), Who obtains a lower note, suspends the module.

Possibility of reevaluation: who has obtained a mark of examination of less than 3, may return to submit to stop it. This recovery only affects the mark of the exam, not the rating of the continuous evaluation, which is maintained.
