Content

We will start by the foundations of reading and writing, that is, hiragana, katakana and kanji.

We will be able to correctly use both sillabaries and approximately the first 50 kanji.

In terms of grammar, we will start by learning basic structures, time expressions (today, tomorrow, morning, afternoon, the time, etc.), by identifying and locating objects or people and basic urban equipments (hospital, library, school) and by learning how to use adjectives.

Once we are able to use the most basic structures, we will progress into more complex structures and Japanese-specific concepts such as counters.

In terms of pronunciation, we will make more complex sounds (long vowels, small tsu, etc.) and intonation a priority.

We will introduce basic cultural concepts in order to make exchange students' lives in Japan easier.

Those contents are presented in lessons 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7 of the book Shokyū Nihongo, of the University of Foreign Studies of Tokyo.

Methodology

The subject will focus on working through the textbook Shokyū Nihongo, of the University of Foreign Studies of Tokyo. The contents will be acquired from the vocabulary and kanji (ideograms) tests done in class; the analysis and the conceptualization of the new grammatical structures; reading, understanding and reformulation of dialogues, and carrying out complementary activities and specific reinforcement exercises in each lesson (writing, grammar exercises, etc.).

Annotation: Within the schedule set by the centre or degree programme, 15 minutes of one class will be reserved for students to evaluate their lecturers and their courses or modules through questionnaires.

Assessment

Continuous assessment

Students must provide evidence of their progress by completing various tasks and tests. These activities are detailed in the table at the end of this section of the Study Guide.

Task deadlines will be indicated in the course schedule on the first day of class. No work will be accepted after the established deadline.

* Students will only be assessed on the basis of work performed on-site.

Related matters

The above information on assessment, assessment activities and their weighting is merely a guide. The subject's lecturer will provide full information when teaching begins.

Review

When publishing final marks prior to recording them on students' transcripts, the lecturer will provide written notification of a date and time for reviewing assessment activities. Students must arrange reviews in agreement with the lecturer.

Missed/failed assessment activities

Students may retake assessment activities they have failed or compensate for any they have missed, provided that those they have actually performed account for a minimum of 66.6% (two thirds) of the subject's final mark and that they have a weighted average mark of at least 3.5.

The lecturer will inform students of the procedure involved, in writing, when publishing final marks prior to recording them on transcripts. The lecturer may set one assignment per failed or missed assessment activity or a single assignment to cover a number of such activities. Under no circumstances may an assessment activity worth 100% of the finalmark be retaken or compensated for. In case of retaking, maximum grade will be 5.

Classification as "not assessable"

In the event of the assessment activities a student has performed accounting for just 25% or less of the subject's finalmark, their work will be classified as "not assessable" on their transcript.

Misconduct in assessment activities

Students who engage in misconduct (plagiarism, copying, personation, etc.) in an assessment activity will receive a mark of "0" for the activity in question. In the case of misconduct in more than one assessment activity, the student involved will be given a final mark of "0" for the subject. Assessment activities in which irregularities have occurred (e.g. plagiarism, copying, impersonation) are excluded from recovery.

Single assessment

This subject may be assessed under the single assessment system in accordance with the terms established in the academic regulations of the UAB and the assessment criteria of the Faculty of Translation and Interpreting.

Students must make an online request within the period established by the faculty and send a copy to the teacher responsible for the subject, for the record.

Single assessment will be carried out in person on one day during week 16 or 17 of the semester. The Academic Management Office will publish the exact date and time on the faculty website.

On the day of the single assessment, teaching staff will ask the student for identification, which should be presented as a valid identification document with a recent photograph (student card, DNI/NIE or passport).

Single assessment activities

Single assessment will include a minimum of three assessment activities of different typology, as stated in the evaluation guidelines.
