You can check it through this link. To consult the language you will need to enter the CODE of the subject. Please note that this information is provisional until 30 November 2023.

Prerequisites

It is highly recommended that students enrolling in this subject have previously passed all the Greek language subjects included in the teaching plan for the 1st and 2nd academic years of the Bachelor's Degree in Ancient Sciences and of the Bachelor's Degree in English and Classical Studies, so they have enough knowledge of Greek language in order to achieve the necessary goals to pass this subject.

Objectives and Contextualisation

This is a compulsory course of the 3rd year which is part of the subject "Greek Philology" of the Bachelor's Degree in Ancient Sciences and the Bachelor's Degree in English and Classical Studies.

The formative objectives of this subject are twofold:

1st) To contextualise the origin and development of the Greek dramatic genre in the context of Greek literature.

2nd) To acquire an in-depth knowledge of the characteristics of the Greek dramatic genre in its two variants - tragedy and comedy - through the translation and commentary of a selection of representative texts of both theater genres.

Competences

Ancient Studies

- Apply grammatical knowledge acquired in the analysis and comprehension of Latin and Greek texts.

- Be able to express oneself orally and in writing in the specific language of history, archaeology and philology, both in one's own languages and a third language.
- Interpret texts written in Latin and Greek to understand the history and Classical civilisations.
- Make a commentary on a literary texts applying knowledge of genres, metrics and stylistics.
- Students must develop the necessary learning skills to undertake further training with a high degree of autonomy.

English and Classics Studies

- Apply the methodology of analysis and knowledge of genres, metrics and stylistics to comment on literary texts and analyse the culture and history of English-speaking countries and the ancient world.
- Demonstrate grammatical knowledge of the Greek and Latin languages and its application to the analysis and comprehension of Greek and Latin texts.
- Interpret written texts in Latin and Greek to learn about classical history and civilizations.
- Produce effective written work or oral presentations adapted to the appropriate register in distinct languages.
- Students must develop the necessary learning skills in order to undertake further training with a high degree of autonomy.

Learning Outcomes

1. Explain the context of the literary works whose characters, topics and clichés were passed down to the following tradition.
2. Extract information from the Greek texts on features of the Greek imaginary, ways of thinking and mentality.
3. Identify in the Greek texts the characteristics of a particular literary genre.
4. Preparing an oral and written discourse in the corresponding language in a proper and organized way.
5. Submitting works in accordance with both individual and small group demands and personal styles.
6. Translate fragments of the Greek works proposed.
7. Translate fragments of the proposed Greek works.
8. Write a metric commentary on a Greek text in verse.
9. Write a morpho-syntactic commentary on a Greek text.

Content

A. List of topics:

1. A general introduction to ancient Greek tragedy
2. Aeschylus
3. Sophocles
4. Euripides
5. Ancient Greek comedy: origins and general features
6. Old comedy: Aristophanes and other poets
7. Middle comedy
8. New comedy: Menander
9. Satyr play

B. Selection of passages to be translated:

This year two classical plays, one tragedy and one comedy, will be worked. Their titles are their protagonists: two heroin women who face a male dominant world in Greek society of the 5th century BC: Sophocles' Antigone and Aristophanes' Lysistrata.

TEXT 1: Sophocles' Antigone [285 verses]

vv. 1-99: Opening scene: Dialogue between Antigone and Ismene.

vv. 441-581: Creon, aware that Antigone has buried the body of her brother Polynices, confronts her, but she not only acknowledges her guilt, but also argues and justifies her actions. Creon condemns her and her sister Ismene, whom he has summoned, to death. Ismene claims to have also buried the body of Polynices, but Antigone says that she is lying.

vv. 891-928 y vv. 937-943: Antigone's last words before dying.

TEXT 2: Aristophanes' Lysistrata [253 verses]

vv. 1-253: Lysistrata gathers the Greek women and proposes them a means to put an end to the (Peloponnesian) war that men have beenwaging foryears: a sex strike. Women say OK and occupy the Acropolis of Athens.

C. Reading in transation of the following plays: Aeschylus, Seven against Thebes; Sophocles, Oedipus Rex; Euripides, Medea, and Aristophanes, The Clouds.

Methodology

The teaching methodology of this course will consist of alternating theoretical explanations of the syllabus with translation and commentary on the selection of passages.

As for the compulsory readings: the tragedies Seven against Thebes by Aeschylus, Oedipus Rex by Sophocles and Medea by Euripides, and the comedy The Clouds by Aristophanes, the teachers will monitor them through reading controls.

Annotation: Within the schedule set by the centre or degree programme, 15 minutes of one class will be reserved for students to evaluate their lecturers and their courses or modules through questionnaires.

Assessment

Evaluation:

This subject/module does not incorporate single assessment.

The evaluation of this subject is continuous and will be done according to the evaluation activities which are stated in the table below.

Given the eminently practical nature of this subject and in order to make a gradual learning of the contents, it is very important that students consider the regular attendance and active participation at lectures (evaluation activity with weight of 10% in the final score) and, in particular, the execution and assessment of daily exercises assigned to every student (evaluation activity with weight of 15% in the final score).

Students will obtain a Not assessed/Not submitted course grade unless they have submitted more than 30% of the assessment items. It is an essential requirement to obtain a minimum grade of 4 in each of the assessment activities to make a weighted average of all the grades that make up the final grade, an average that must reach 5 to pass the course.

Procedure for reviewing grades awarded:

On carrying out each evaluation activity, lecturers will inform students (on Moodle) of the procedures to be followed for reviewing all grades awarded, and the date on which such a review will take place.

Reassessment procedure:

To participate in the reassessment, students must have previously been assessed in a set of activities whose weight is equivalent to a minimum of 2/3 of the total grade.

To participate in the reassessment, students must have obtained a minimum score of 3,5/10 in the final average grade. Reaching a minimum mark of 4 in every evaluation activity is an essential requirement to do the final weighted average mark, which must be 5 or more to pass the subject. Only students who have failed an exam or reading control with a mark below 4, or have not achieved an average grade of 5/10 will be able to reassess the subject. It will only be able to recover, at most, two exams or reading controls: either the two text translation exams, or one text translation exam and one reading control, either the two reading controls. The final score of any reassessment activity, that will be submitted on the reassessment day, will be "5 Pass".

Plagiarism:

In the event of a student committing any irregularity that may lead to a significant variation in the grade awarded to an assessment activity, the student will be given a zero for this activity, regardless of any disciplinary process that may take place. In the event of several irregularities in assessment activities of the same subject, the student will be given a zero as the final grade for this subject.
