Objectives and Contextualisation

The aim of this module is to deepen the conceptual framework that relates tourism, heritage and territory, where this relationship develops in order to acquire the necessary skills for its proper management. A relationship that needs the following contents to be developed properly: to provide advanced knowledge of the structure and sectorialisation of tourism activity, applying it to the specific field of the arts and humanities in order to develop the management of knowledge about the heritage resources existing in the territory. At the same time, the contents also contemplate the necessary instruments to deepen the analysis of the cultural tourism demand, the application of new technologies (e-tourism) on the territorial offer and its heritage resources. As well as developing the interpretative frameworks that are best adapted to the heritage resources, thereby achieving the proposal of new tourism products adapted to the heritage and the territory in a sustainable and accessible way.

Competences

- Analyse heritage resources and the characteristics, dimension and impact of tourism activity on a regional level, both nationally and internationally.
- Analyse the value of arts, humanities and social sciences applied to tourism.
- Assume responsibilities and decisions critically and autonomously.
- Communicate and justify conclusions clearly and unambiguously to both specialist and non-specialist audiences.
- Create multilingual expositive discourses interrelating the tourist content of cultural heritage with the arts and humanities.
- Design tourist products adapted to regional spaces using both tangible and intangible cultural heritage resources.
- Integrate knowledge and use it to make judgements in complex situations, with incomplete information, while keeping in mind social and ethical responsibilities.
- Promote the use and management of heritage resources as a tourist product.
- Use acquired knowledge as a basis for originality in the application of ideas, often in a research context.

Learning Outcomes

1. Analyse the heritage of a specific region to establish the most appropriate strategies for promoting it , on both a national and international scale.
2. Apply social dynamics linked to heritage resources for tourism in the profession of tourist guide in a region.
3. Assume responsibilities and decisions critically and autonomously.
4. Communicate and justify conclusions clearly and unambiguously to both specialist and non-specialist audiences.
5. Describe the main theoretical and methodological contributions in the existing relationships between tourism, humanities and territory.
6. Identify sources of information on current tourist affairs and its demand related to regional tourism management on a national and international scale.
7. Identify the bases on which the interpretation of heritage is based to apply them to the promotion of the use of heritage resources for tourism.
8. Identify the characteristics, motivation and expectations of tourist demand in the regional in which it is produced.
9. Integrate knowledge and use it to make judgements in complex situations, with incomplete information, while keeping in mind social and ethical responsibilities.
10. Propose and describe tourist content relating to heritage with strategies for local sustainable development.
11. Propose expositive forms linked to new technologies to obtain smoother and more effective communication in the promotion of tourist heritage resources.
12. Relate the social representativeness of tourist heritage resources to tourism-cultural motivations.
13. Use acquired knowledge as a basis for originality in the application of ideas, often in a research context.

Content

The contents of this module are as follows:

1. Tourism and Territory. The tourist system and the image of the destinations and resources of the 21st century. The impacts that tourism currently has on the territory and heritage and how it evolves towards a more sustainable and responsible tourism when it comes to managing the knowledge that is referred to both.
2. Enogastronomy, new ways of understanding tourism and the impacts it has on the territory.
3. E-tourism and the application of new technologies, with special emphasis on the needs of a totally changing and experience demand.

- The methodologies and theories that can be applied in the relationship tourism - arts and humanities - territory

Methodology
