Teaching groups languages

You can view this information at the end of this document.

Prerequisites

This subject 100625 Latin will be taught in two groups: one for students who have previously studied Latin for two years or more; and another for students who have taken Latin for less than two years or have never taken it. Each group will be constituted in accordance with the students' Secondary School curriculum (or other academic documents referring to courses previous to the current one - with which access to the university was given -). To prove the distribution of the groups by level, it will be mandatory to provide a document accrediting the training in Latin that the student has received in the previous stages.

Objectives and Contextualisation

Giving a synchronic description of the grammar of classical Latin.

Providing theoretical tools to identify morphosyntactic structures, as well as proficiency in phonetics, phonology, lexicon and semantics of Latin as a flexive language.

Placing Latin in the context of indoeuropean languages and at the origin of Romance languages.

Familiarizing the students with the etymologies and with the main mechanisms by means of which Latin classical words are built.

Drawing basic coordinates (genres, themes, characters, topics....) of Latin literature.

Competences

At the beginning of the course, the teachers will give a dossier for the study of the subject. This dossier will contain a more detailed bibliography and contents information.

Also at the beginning of the course, the teachers will communicate the calendar of the evaluation activities.

15 minutes of a class will be reserved, within the calendar established by the center/degree, for the completion by the students of the evaluation surveys of the performance of the teachers and evaluation of the subject.

Annotation: Within the schedule set by the centre or degree programme, 15 minutes of one class will be reserved for students to evaluate their lecturers and their courses or modules through questionnaires.

Assessment

Continous Assessment Activities

Title	Weighting	Hours	ECTS	Learning Outcomes
1st test	30%	1.5	0.06	2, 1, 4, 3, 8, 7, 10, 9, 11, 12, 14, 13
Written delivery	30%	1.5	0.06	2, 1, 4, 8, 7, 10, 9, 11, 12, 14, 13
final exam	40%	1.5	0.06	2, 1, 4, 3, 5, 6, 8, 7, 10, 9, 11, 12, 14, 13

The final grade will be obtained according to the following criteria:

1. The final grade will be the result of the following evaluation activities:

One partial test, with a value of 30% about of the contents seen during the course previously to the fixed date of the respective test.

A final exam (40%) on the topics of Latin grammar, linguistics and literature.

Delivery of an exercise that will be described at the beginning of the course, worth 30%, on a topic of Latin literature or culture.

2. The student who has not completed the final exam will be considered "not evaluable".

In the event of a student committing any irregularity that may lead to a significant variation in the grade awarded to an assessment activity, the student will be given a zero for this activity, regardless of any disciplinary process that may take place. In the event of several irregularities in assessment activities of the same subject, the student will be given a zero as the final grade for this subject.

This subject does not incorporate single assessment.

3. Re-evaluation: Given the evaluation criteria indicated above, students who have not obtained a minimum of 5 points (approved) may take re-evaluation exam on the date and time indicated by the Secretary office of the Faculty. However, the re-evaluation will result in a maximum of 5 points (approved).

Bibliography

N.B.: In addition to the recommended works below, other references will be presented in class, especially those related to the Philological Tools (dictionaries, text collections, journals, web pages, etc.). We consider that the listed works are important, but the students should ideally discover other scientific references during their study.
