Prerequisites

To take this subject, students should have obtained all their first and second-year credits and, in particular, have taken subject 101537 Classical East Asian thought. They must be able to read and understand academic texts in English to carry out reading assignments.

Objectives and Contextualisation

The objective of this subject is to present various aspects crucial to understanding modernity and philosophical contemporaneity in China and Japan. It involves studying and questioning, in a progressive and correlative way throughout the semester, the main discourse frameworks that constitute the two countries' modern and contemporary philosophical movements. To that end, the subject aims to provide students with the necessary knowledge about the specific context (historical, political, cultural) of authors, texts and schools of thought. It seeks to enable students to identify the authors, texts and schools of thought of China and Japan and to situate them in their individual and global context. Therefore, we will work on the dialogue between philosophical texts, specific positions of schools of thought and thinkers, problems within a particular context, specific central themes, philosophical questions, etc.

Competences

- Developing critical thinking and reasoning and communicating them effectively both in your own and other languages.
- Developing self-learning strategies.

This subject combines lectures with the individual work and active participation of the students. The subject's essential content will be covered in lectures and complemented by reading assignments. Students will be encouraged to use the Moodle classroom as a common space for exchanging information related to the course (information, debates, materials, complementary resources, etc.).

Annotation: Within the schedule set by the centre or degree programme, 15 minutes of one class will be reserved for students to evaluate their lecturers and their courses or modules through questionnaires.

Assessment

Continuous Assessment Activities

Title	Weighting	Hours	ECTS	Learning Outcomes
Essay - philosophical paper	40%	39	1.56	4, 7, 6, 8, 9, 2, 1, 10, 14, 13, 11, 12, 15, 5, 17, 16, 3
Final written exam Module China	30%	2	0.08	4, 7, 6, 8, 9, 2, 1, 10, 14, 11, 12, 15, 3
Final written exam Module Japan	30%	2	0.08	4, 7, 6, 8, 9, 2, 1, 10, 14, 11, 12, 15, 3

Assessment is continuous. Students must provide evidence of their progress by completing tasks and tests. Task deadlines will be indicated in the course schedule on the first day of class. All activity deadlines are indicated in the subject's schedule and must be strictly adhered to.

Students will have to carry out the following assessment activities:

- Activity 1: Final written exam Module China (30% of the subject's final mark)
- Activity 2: Final written exam Module Japan (30% of the subject's final mark)
- Activity 3: Essay - philosophical paper (40% of the subject's final mark)

Related matters

The above information on assessment, assessment activities and their weighting is merely a guide. The subject's lecturer will provide full information when teaching begins.

Review

When publishing final marks prior to recording them on students' transcripts, the lecturer will provide written notification of a date and time for reviewing assessment activities. Students must arrange reviews in agreement with the lecturer.

Missed/failed assessment activities

Students may retake assessment activities they have failed or compensate for any they have missed, provided that those they have actually performed account for a minimum of 66.6% (two thirds) of the subject's final mark and that they have a weighted average mark of at least 3.5. Under no circumstances may an assessment activity worth 100% of the final mark be retaken or compensated for.

The lecturer will inform students of the procedure involved, in writing, when publishing final marks prior to recording them on transcripts. The lecturer may set one assignment per failed or missed assessment activity or a single assignment to cover a number of such activities.

Classification as "not assessable"

In the event of the assessment activities a student has performed accounting for just 25% or less of the subject's final mark, their work will be classified as "not assessable" on their transcript.

Misconduct in assessment activities

Students who engage in misconduct (plagiarism, copying, personation, etc.) in an assessment activity will receive a mark of "0" for the activity in question. In the case of misconduct in more than one assessment activity, the students involved will be given a final mark of "0" for the subject.

Students may not retake assessment activities in which they are found to have engaged in misconduct. Plagiarism is considered to mean presenting all or part of an author's work, whether published in print or in digital format, as one's own, i.e. without citing it. Copying is considered to mean reproducing all or a substantial part of another student's work. In cases of copying in which it is impossible to determine which of two students has copied the work of the other, both will be penalised.

Single Assessment

This subject may be assessed under the single assessment system in accordance with the terms established in the academic regulations of the UAB and the assessment criteria of the Faculty of Translation and Interpreting.

Students must make an online request within the period established by the faculty and send a copy to the teacher responsible for the subject, for the record.

Single assessment will be carried out in person on one day during week 16 or 17 of the semester. The Academic Management Office will publish the exact date and time on the faculty website.

On the day of the single assessment, teaching staff will ask the student for identification, which should be presented as a valid identification document with a recent photograph (student card, DNI/NIE or passport).

Single assessment activities

The final grade for the subject will be calculated according to the following percentages:

- Activity 1: Final written exam on the contents of the China module (30% of the subject's final mark)
- Activity 2: Final written exam on the contents of the Japan module (30% of the subject's final mark)
- Activity 3: Delivery of a written essay (40% of the subject's final mark)

Grade revision and resit procedures for the subject are the same as those for continual assessment. See the section above in this study guide.
