According to the New Teaching Model, the course in administrative law I has guided and autonomous activities.

As for the guided activities, these consist of a weekly theory class and a weekly seminar or classroom activity. Theoretical class is recommended, but attendance is not mandatory; on the other hand, attendance at seminars or classroom activities is mandatory, except in cases of absence due to illness or force majeure duly accredited, and is taken into account in the evaluation. Seminars and classroom activities consist of usually oral presentations of readings, sentences, case studies, ... prior individual work (autonomous activity) and subsequent deliberations developed in groups in the classroom (guided activity).

Materials for seminars and classroom activities are available on the Virtual Campus. A Schedule will be posted at the beginning of the course so that students can have the calendar of the theoretical classes and the seminars and classroom activities.

Annotation: Within the schedule set by the centre or degree programme, 15 minutes of one class will be reserved for students to evaluate their lecturers and their courses or modules through questionnaires.

Assessment

Continous Assessment Activities

Title	Weighting	Hours	ECTS	Learning Outcomes
Final exam	20% - 50%	2.5	0.1	1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6
Partial exam	25% - 40%	2.5	0.1	1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 8, 10
practical cases	25% - 40%	5	0.2	1, 2, 4, 7, 8, 9, 10

1. Continuous assessment

Evaluation activities

The evaluation is based on three activities: a partial exam (midterm exam), with a value of 35%; the activities carried out in the seminars and classroom activities, with a value of 30%; and a final exam, with a value of 35%.

Students will be evaluable as long as he/she has carried out a set of activities whose weight is equivalent to a minimum of 2/3 of the total grade of the subject. If the value of the activities performed does not reach this threshold, the teacher of the course may consider the student as not evaluable.

The dates set for the examinations and the evaluable activities of the seminars are mandatory. Only for reasons that absolutely prevent attendance, duly justified, may be authorized the realization of the activity on a different day. In any case, driving exams and similar cases are not considered as justified reasons.

In the midterm exam and in the final exam, the knowledge acquired both in the theoretical classes and in the seminars and classroom activities are controlled. At the beginning of the course, the teacher in charge of each group will communicate to the students the type of the partial test and the final exam (test, questions to be developed, mixed system, etc.). The teacher in charge will also indicate well in advance the penalty for incorrect answers applicable to the test exams.

The score corresponding to the evaluable activities performed in the seminars and classroom activities will take into consideration the knowledge and skills used (ability to solve practical cases, argumentation, oral presentation skills and teamwork, among others). Attendance to the seminars is mandatory. A 0.1 point deduction from the final grade may be applied for each unexcused absence, up to a maximum of 1 point.

A weighted average grade of 5 points is required to pass the course. There is no possibility to do any complementary work or exercise to increase the final average grade resulting from the exams and the evaluable activities of the seminars.

Students who fail the course (i.e., those who have obtained an average grade lower than 5 points out of 10), may apply for revaluation under the conditions indicated in the following section.

Revaluation

The reevaluation exam can only be taken by those students who have taken the mid-term and final exams. There is no minimum grade to take the re-evaluation: the re-evaluation tests may be taken by all those who, having taken the mid-term and final exams, have not passed the course.

The content of the re-evaluation will include the contents of the mid-term exam and the final exam.

The teacher in charge of each group will specify the type and structure of the re-evaluation test (test, questions to be developed, mixed system, etc.). It will also indicate the penalty for incorrect answers applicable to the test exams.

The reevaluation exam will be held on the date officially determined by the Faculty of Law.

The grade for the reevaluation will not consider the grades corresponding to the practical or seminar activities, nor those obtained in any of the mid-term exams.

Students who have had to take the reevaluation exam may obtain a maximum final grade of 6 points.

Copy and plagiarism

Any student who copies or attempts to copy in any exam or in the written exercises that take place at the seminars, will receive a final qualification of 0 points in Administrative Law I. In these cases, students will not have the possibility to take the re-evaluation exam. Likewise, students who copy or try to copy in the reevaluation tests or exercises, will obtain a qualification of 0 points in Administrative Law I.

Any paper or practical exercise submitted by the students, in which any evidence of plagiarism can be detected, will receive a qualification of 0 points. Students who submit any paper that is deemed to be a case of plagiarism will receive a warning additionally. In the event of a repeat plagiarism misconduct, the student will fail the whole course of Administrative Law I.

2. Single Assessment

The evaluation of the subject is based on three activities: a partial test (midterm exam), with a value of 35%; a final exam, with a value of 35%; and a practical exam with a value of 30%.

All the evaluation activities will take place in the date set for the final exam of the continuous assessment system.

The student will be evaluable as long as he/she has carried out a set of activities whose weight is equivalent to a minimum of 2/3 of the total grade of the subject. If the value of the activities performed does not reach this threshold, the teacher of the course may consider the student as not evaluable

Any student who copies or attempts to copy in any exam, will receive a final qualification of 0 points in Administrative Law I. In these cases, students will not have the possibility to take the reevaluation exam. Likewise, students who copy or try to copy in the re-evaluation tests or exercises, will obtain a qualification of 0 points in Administrative Law I.

Reevaluation: The reevaluation in single assessment follows the same procedure as for the continuous assessment.

Review of final qualifications: The review of the final qualifications follows the same procedure as for the continuous assessment.
