Objectives and Contextualisation

The program of this module takes the form of the course the National Museum Pro, Professionals, Projects and Processes in the National Museum of Art of Catalonia, taught by the professionals of the Museum. The objective of these classes is to know the Museum from within. Tools are offered to better understand the character and variety of tasks performed by their professionals, as well as elements to reflect on the functioning of museums as complex and changing organizations, and on their role in contemporary societies.

Competences

- Be familiar with the resources and skills that a professional art historian or artistic heritage specialist needs and develop the ability to meet the challenges involved in the care, study and management of the artistic heritage.
- Continue the learning process, to a large extent autonomously.
- Find links between concepts and knowledge in different areas of art history that previously had not been observed.
- Show mastery of language, expression and rhetorical devices in the preparation and presentation of research projects and professional tasks.

- Solve problems in new or little-known situations within broader (or multidisciplinary) contexts related to the field of study.
- Systematically assimilate and synthesise the information that is of the greatest importance for research and professional practice.
- Work in interdisciplinary teams. Master the use of language, expression and rhetorical resources in drawing up and delivering presentations on research, projects and professional tasks.

Learning Outcomes

1. Apply knowledge of the areas of museology, heritage and museography in relation to other areas associated with the works of art of different historical periods.
2. Continue the learning process, to a large extent autonomously.
3. Differentiate between the various types of work carried out in an art gallery and in a contemporary art centre.
4. Know the work of museum curators and art foundations
5. Show mastery of language, expression and rhetorical devices in the preparation and presentation of research projects and professional tasks.
6. Solve problems in new or little-known situations within broader (or multidisciplinary) contexts related to the field of study.
7. Systematically assimilate and synthesise the information that is of the greatest importance for research and professional practice.
8. Understand and apply the various methods of cataloguing, registering and documenting the artistic heritage used in museums, foundations, galleries, art centres and research centres.
9. Work in interdisciplinary teams. Master the use of language, expression and rhetorical resources in drawing up and delivering presentations on research, projects and professional tasks.
