Teaching groups languages

You can view this information at the end of this document.

Prerequisites

At the beginning of this course, students must be able to:

- Understand fairly complex written texts about personal and general topics in familiar subject areas. (MCRE-FTI B1.2.)

- Write about everyday topics. (MCRE-FTI A2.2.)

- Understand clearly pronounced Italian on everyday topics. (MCRE-FTI A2.2.)

- Express themselves in spoken Italian on everyday topics using simple constructions. (MCRE-FTI A2.1.)

Objectives and Contextualisation

The aim of this subject is to begin to develop the communicative competences students need in their C language (Italian) to prepare them to translate a range of non-specialised texts from standard Italian.

All course credits correspond to language skills.

On successfully completing this subject, students will be able to:

- Understand different types of written texts about general topics in familiar subject areas. (MCRE-FTI B2.1.)

- Write about personal and general topics in familiar subject areas. (MCRE-FTI B1.1.)

- Understand clearly pronounced Italian about personal and general topics in familiar subject areas. (MCRE-FTI B1.1.)

- Express themselves in spoken Italian on everyday topics. (MCRE-FTI A2.2.)

Competences

- Producing oral texts in a foreign language in order to interpret.

- Producing written texts in a foreign language in order to translate.
- Producing written texts in language A in order to translate.
- Understanding oral texts in a foreign language in order to interpret.
- Understanding written texts in a foreign language in order to translate.
- Working effectively in teams.

Learning Outcomes

Content

- Morphological and syntactic content: conditional mode, subjunctive mode, relative and interrogative adjectives and pronouns, formation of the feminine, prepositions, degrees of comparison of the adjective. The lecturer may, at any time, add to this list or opt to examine any aspect of it in greater depth, as long as doing so does not entail dealing with the content involved very extensively.

- Lexical fields: inventory and acquisition of vocabulary commonly used in certain specific fields.

- Reading, analysis and reformulation of texts written in disseminative, informative or persuasive style and in standard language of medium difficulty.

- Work on the passive oral competence through conversational or formal audiovisual texts in standard language of medium difficulty.

- Work on the active oral competence in standard language through conversations and presentations with a low-medium degree of correctness and fluency.

To achieve the established objectives, this subject involves both lectures and practical classes.

All activity deadlines are indicated in the subject's schedule and must be strictly adhered to.

The work students carry out mainly consists of:

- Attending lectures.

- Individual/group presentations in class.

- Debates and discussions in class.

- Watching documentaries and other audiovisual material.

- Documentation searches.

- Reading assignments.

- Written assignments.

- Assignments to be performed outside class.

- Exercises to be performed in class.

- Problem-solving.

- Performing tasks.

- Cooperative learning.

- Practical demonstrations.

- A series of exams.

The phrase "in class" in the previous enumeration may not imply face-to-face classes if due to supervening circumstances the teaching must be virtual. Classes may take place, in such a case, by videoconference or in other modalities.

Learning activities are organised into three categories based on the degree of student autonomy involved:

- Directed activities: carried out according to a set timetable and in the presence of a lecturer.

- Supervised activities: carried out under the supervision of a lecturer or tutor.

- Autonomous activities: carried out by students without supervision, requiring them to organise their own time and work (either in groups or individually).

Annotation: Within the schedule set by the centre or degree programme, 15 minutes of one class will be reserved for students to evaluate their lecturers and their courses or modules through questionnaires.

Assessment

Continous Assessment Activities

Title	Weighting	Hours	ECTS	Learning Outcomes
Activities related to morphosyntactic and lexical knowledge (includes reading comprehension)	40%	4.5	0.18	2, 1, 8, 4
Oral comprehension (listening) activities	15%	1.68	0.07	2, 7, 3
Reading comprehension and writing activities	35%	3.95	0.16	1, 8, 6, 4, 10
Speaking activities	10%	1.12	0.04	2, 5, 9, 11

Continuous assessment

Students must provide evidence of their progress by completing various tasks and tests. Tasks and tests deadlines will be indicated in the course schedule on the first day of class. The information on assessment activities and their weighting is a guide. The subject's lecturer will provide full information when teaching begins.

There will be between three and eight tests/tasks and none will be worth 40% or more of the final mark. They may consist of: summaries or reformulations of written and oral texts, comprehension questionnaires on written and oral texts, grammar and lexicon tests, dissertations / projects, oral presentations, student-teacher conversations, student conversations in groups, etc.

Most of the tests/tasks will be done in class hours, in class, individually. There will be few or none to be done at home or in groups. However, these criteria may be modified in the event that, due to supervening circumstances, the teaching will go from being face-to-face teaching to virtual teaching.

Any test or task a student misses, albeit with a valid reason, may only be compensated for at the end of the semester. There will be no tests/tasks other than those scheduled at the beginning of this course.

Test/task review: corrected in writing and marked out of 10, tests/tasks will be returned to the students and discussed collectively in class. They will subsequently be returned to the lecturer, who will keep them in their office for a year. Throughout the semester, the lecturer will be available to students in their office hours for any individual explanation required.

Review

When publishing final marks prior to recording them on students' transcripts, the lecturer will provide written notification of a date and time for reviewing assessment activities. Students must arrange reviews in agreement with the lecturer.

Missed/failedassessment activities

Students may retake assessment activities they have failed or compensate for any they have missed, provided that those they have actually performed account for a minimum of 66.6% (two thirds) of the subject's final mark and that they have a weighted average mark of at least 3.5.

The lecturer will inform students of the procedure involved, in writing, when publishing final marks prior to recording them on transcripts. The lecturer may set one assignment per failed or missed assessment activity or a single assignment to cover a number of such activities. Under no circumstances may an assessment activity worth 100% of the final mark be retaken or compensated for.

In case of retaking, maximum grade will be 5 (Pass).

The Academic Management Office will publish the exact date, time and classroom of the retake session on the faculty website.

Classification as "not assessable"

In the event of the assessment activities a student has performed accounting for just 25% or less of the subject's final mark, their work will be classified as "not assessable" on their transcript.

Misconduct in assessment activities

Students who engage in misconduct (plagiarism, copying, personation, etc.) in an assessment activity will receive a mark of "0" for the activity in question. In the case of misconduct in more than one assessment activity, the students involved will be given a final mark of "0" for the subject.

Students may not retake assessment activities in which they are found to have engaged in misconduct.

Plagiarism is considered to mean presenting all or part of an author's work, whether published in print or in digital format, as one's own, i.e. without citing it. Copying is considered to mean reproducing all or a substantial part of another student's work. In cases of copying in which it is impossible to determine which of two students hascopied the work of the other, both will be penalised.

Single assessment

This subject may be assessed under the single assessment system in accordance with the terms established in the academic regulations of the UAB and the assessment criteria of the Faculty of Translation and Interpreting.

Students must make an online request within the period established by the faculty and send a copy to the lecturer responsible for the subject, for the record.

Single assessment will be carried out in person on one day during week 16 or 17 of the semester. The Academic Management Office will publish the exact date, time and classroom on the faculty website.

On the day of the single assessment, teaching staff will ask the student for identification, which should be presented as a valid identification document with a recent photograph (student card, DNI/NIE or passport).

Single assessment activities

Single assessment will include a minimum of three assessment activities of different types, as stated in the assessment guidelines.

Grade revision and retake procedures for the subject are the same as those for continuous assessment. See the sectiona bove ("Continuous assessment").
