"Pratiques Externes" (Internship) is an annual 12 ECTS-credit optional subject offered in the fourth (final) year of the BA in East Asian Studies. It is regulated by this course programme.

This internship is offered as part of the undergraduate degree syllabus and, as such, is a curricular activity which involves students working on tasks related to any aspect of their East Asian Studies programme in either companies/organisations off campus, or UAB campus institutions/departments. These internship positions are not remunerated.

This subject comprises a total of 300 hours, 200 of which the student works in situ for the company/organisation or centre - some internships offer students the option to work online. The remaining 100 hours are set aside for two purposes. First, for scheduled information and professional orientation sessions at the Faculty or by video conference - the Internships Coordinator will inform students in due time of where and when. Second, these hours also cover autonomous work by the student such as writing up their professional folder and final summary report, which must both be completed at the end of the internship.

Methodologies:

- Problem solving.
- Carrying out the task.
- Case studies.
- Cooperative learning techniques.
- Master classes.

There will be continuous tutoring at the Faculty of Translation and Interpreting (internal tutor), and at the entity where the student does the practicum (external tutor).

More information is available on the subject website:

<<https://www.uab.cat/web/study/ba-degrees/academic-information/internship/internship-east-asian-studies-degree>

Annotation: Within the schedule set by the centre or degree programme, 15 minutes of one class will be reserved for students to evaluate their lecturers and their courses or modules through questionnaires.

Final summary report

The form for submitting the final summary report will be found on the internship website: <

<https://www.uab.cat/web/study/ba-degrees/academic-information/internship/internship-east-asian-studies-degree>>.

Through multiple choice questions and some text fields, the student is asked for a brief description and assessment of the tasks performed during the internship, the entity or company where he has carried them out and other aspects related to the development of the subject and the skills acquired.

Professional folder

The student must send the professional folder in pdf. format to his/her internal tutor. The professional folder must include the following documents:

- Cover letter.
- Curriculum vitae.
- Selection and comments on some samples of the tasks carried out during the internship that demonstrate competence in the area of East Asia. Permission must be requested from the company or entity to include these samples in the professional folder and, if necessary, any confidential data must be concealed.
- Fictitious invoice.
- Fees table.

For further details, see the document "Professional folder" on the course webpage indicated above.

Professional orientation sessions

During the year, several professional orientation sessions will be organised, mostly face-to-face or video lectures given by employment guidance experts (employment guidance in general or focused on East Asian Studies). These lectures will be previously announced by e-mail, and will take place preferably when other classes are not scheduled. The student must submit within one week to the subject coordinator (by the channel the coordinator determines) a free writing summary-valuation of every session (minimum 10 lines). Summaries from students who did not attend the sessions will not be accepted, reason why attendance control will be carried out.

Missed/failed assessment activities

Given the characteristics of this subject, it is not possible to retake it in the same academic year, as "assessment linked to an academic and/or professional task of a semester or annual duration is excluded from the application" (FTI Regulation on retaking assessment activities in the case of a NOT PRESENTED or a FAIL, Point E.1, approved by Faculty Board of June 9, 2010).

Review

When publishing final marks prior to recording them on students' transcripts, the lecturer will provide written notification of a date and time for reviewing assessment activities. Students must arrange reviews in agreement with the lecturer.

Misconduct in assessment activities

Students who engage in misconduct (plagiarism, copying, personation or identity theft, etc.) in an assessment activity will receive a mark of "0" for the activity in question. In the case of misconduct in more than one assessment activity, the students involved will be given a final mark of "0" for the subject.

Single assessment

This subject is not suitable for single assessment.

IMPORTANT: The above information on assessment, assessment activities and their weighting is merely a guide. The subject's lecturer will provide full information when teaching begins.
