Prerequisites

It is recommended that students have reached the two previous courses of Social Education.

Objectives

This elective course is part of the Socio-Community Education itinerary in the Social Education degree. Its main objective is to reconceptualise, and produce critical reflections and actions in the field of Community Cultural Development.

The subject arises the historical reconstruction of the bases of Community Cultural Development in the context of the present and local and international perspectives. This course focuses on the study of cultural policies in relation to social education and reinterprets the links between art, local government and community. However, students as participants will be involved in Community Cultural Development.

Learning outcomes

1. Analyse socio-cultural and community development experiences and projects from the perspective of different theoretical paradigms.
2. Evaluate policies and programs derived from the same concerning education for development.
3. Understand the basic concept and the main methodologies and techniques of socio-cultural and community development.
4. Analyse and apply critical reasoning to the understanding of representative versus participatory democracy. Understand power, government and governance.
5. Reflecting on, evaluating and applying the changes required in educational practice regarding the Concept of participation. Participation as an end and as a means for change.

6. Reflecting on, evaluating and applying the changes required in educational practice with regard to the participation of the public from the perspective of the administration: models and devices.
7. Reflecting on, evaluating and applying the changes required in educational practice with regard to the Social Participation from the perspective of social players: social movements and associations.
8. Design and develop participatory processes in social and community education.
9. Apply participatory techniques: Participatory Action Research (PAR), to community diagnosis.
10. Develop professional functions tailored to different social and community situations in ways that encourage the empowerment of the participants.
11. Understand existing research on socio-cultural and community development.
12. Proposing strategies adapted to different mediation situations and requirements, appropriately developing strategies for mediation between individuals or groups in simulated situations and displaying social skills for understanding families and being understood by them.
13. Incorporating into their analyses the contextual references needed, linked to specific problems and proposals about education for development.
14. Working in multidisciplinary teams, developing processes of social/community education.
15. Critically analyse the principles, values and procedures that govern the exercise of the profession.
16. Weigh up the impact of any long- or short-term difficulty, harm or discrimination that could be caused to certain persons or groups by the actions or projects.
17. Propose projects and actions that are in accordance with the principles of ethical responsibility and respect for fundamental rights and obligations, diversity and democratic values.
18. Analyse the sex- or gender-based inequalities and the gender biases present in one's own area of knowledge.
19. Propose projects and actions that incorporate the gender perspective.
20. Communicate using language that is not sexist or discriminatory.
21. Identify the principal forms of sex- or gender-based inequality and discrimination present in society.

Learning activities and methodology

Title	Hours	ECTS	Learning outcomes
Tutoring sessions and monitoring	30	1.2	1, 5, 6, 10, 20
Directed activity (whole attendance grup and work in small groups or seminars)	45	1.8	1, 2, 3, 4, 7, 9, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19, 20, 21
Autonomous work tasks, such as: preparation of written tests or oral, reading texts or individual or group work, etc.	75	3	1, 3, 5, 7, 11, 14, 15, 16, 18, 19, 20, 21

Sequence of the course

First, we will develop the first block (lectures and seminars), and the second block will be after (lectures and seminars).

In one way or another, the content of this course are connected with the subject \"Fundamentals of Socio-education\" and are to take into account for those students who wish to specialize in the socio-community aspects.

The sessions of Block 2 of this subject are based on research and experimentation with materials by students, which requires an investigation based on image documentation and recycling of materials for art and cultural practices. In addition, the methodology adopted for its successful development requires that students bring to the classroom materials for the realization of art and cultural activities. Teachers will recommend the most suitable material for planned activities, which will have a sustainable cost and can be shared among students. We will search for mechanisms to ensure that the student can have it in case he/she do not have the necessary resources.

Annotation: within the schedule set by the centre or degree programme, 15 minutes of one class will be reserved for students to evaluate their lecturers and their courses or modules through questionnaires.

Assessment

Continuous assessment

Block 1. The theoretical and historical foundations of Community Cultural Development

- Knowledge test based on the theoretical and methodological foundations of the DCC. Conceptual deepening and case study (30%). (individual assessment task)
- Analysis of a community arts project (or entity) (15%). (group work phase 1)

Block 2: Practical dimension: performative education and community arts projects.

- Research on a community arts project based on an arts-based methodology (30%). (group work, phase 2)
- Individual reflection on the learning process of the subject and the relationship between the figure of the social educator and social and community intervention with artistic languages (25%).

The written test for continuous assessment will be held on March 30, 2027.

Single assessment

- Knowledge test based on the theoretical and methodological foundations of the DCC. Conceptual in-depth study and case study (30%).
- Analysis (15% block 1) and research (30% block 2) of a community arts project based on an arts-based methodology. (total 45%)
- Individual reflection on the learning process of the subject and the relationship between the figure of the social educator and social and community intervention with artistic languages (25%).

The exam and the submission of the single assessment tasks will be held on Tuesday, June 8, 2027.

The review of the final grade follows the same procedure as for continuous assessment.

In both assessment modalities:

In order to have the right to recuperate the subject, the student must have completed two thirds of the evaluation activities of the subject. Group work is not recoverable, because the methodology does not allow it. If one or all of the individual assignments are failed (written test and individual assignment of block II), a grade higher than 3.5/10 must have been obtained in order to be entitled to the recovery of the assessment assignment(s).

The grade of 'Not Evaluable (NE)' will be applied to students who have not provided the three assessment evidence for the subject (group work, written test and individual work).

Taking into account the teaching methodologies used in this subject, based on reflective and creative processes, class attendance is important. In this subject, the active participation of the student is valued as an important factor in the final assessment.

One of the criteria necessary to pass this subject consists of demonstrating, throughout the course, that the student has developed the personal and social skills essential to be a social educator: active participation in classes, responsibility and rigour in independent work, non-judgement, argumentation, appropriate use of electronic devices (mobile phone, computer, etc.), critical thinking and behaviour that favours a friendly and positive, democratic environment in which differences are respected. The teaching staff will observe, document the sessions and note down evidence in relation to these personal and social skills of the students; and they will be evaluated throughout the course.

It is also necessary for the student to show good general communicative skills, both orally and in writing, and a good command of the vehicular language(s) listed in the teaching guide. Assessment will also look at cooperative and teamwork skills and will be gender-sensitive.

Copying or plagiarism will be grounds for failing the course.

For this subject, the use of Artificial Intelligence (AI) technologies is allowed exclusively in support tasks, such as bibliographic or information research, text correction or translations. The student must clearly identify which parts have been generated with this technology, specify the tools used and include a critical reflection on how these have influenced the process and the final result of the activity. The non-transparency of the use of AI in this subject will be considered a lack of academic honesty and may lead to a partial or total penalisation in the mark for the activity, or higher sanctions in serious cases.

The return of the different evaluation activities will take place no later than 20 working days after delivery.

The recovery date for both types of assessment will be the 22th of June 2027.

Given that the subject has a practical dimension (group work and other classroom activities), students enrolling for the second time (according to point 2 of article 267 of the UAB Academic Regulations) will not be allowed to take a synthesis test.
