ELEMENT 1. PROCESSES

SAMPLE: E2U AD

Other Video Transcript

ANDREEA DELEANU This is unit 3B, E2U and AD; element 1. Processes, other video “E2U AD”. Hello! I am Andreea Deleanu, a conference interpreting and translation student at the Università degli Studi di Trieste.

ANDREEA DELEANU You will watch and listen to the first excerpt with the standard AD in English. Then, you will watch and listen to the same excerpt with an easy-to-understand (or E2U) AD.

ANDREEA DELEANU The E2U version was created based on E2U principles. As you will note, the result is a text whose features are closer to Easy to Read Language rather than to Plain Language. In fact, especially in an audiovisual context with strict time constraints, it is better to opt for a more drastic simplification of the text, that will be therefore read more slowly and understood more easily, leaving more processing time for the user and preventing them from over-loading on information.

MIHA ZOR

STANDARD AD: Stories behind the faces, Sabina Dermota. On the top of a grassy slope is a pile of gravel. Behind it, where the hill slopes to the other side, three deciduous trees grow. And one in front of them. A tent is pitched next to it. A woman in hiking gear with a rucksack and trekking poles in her hands arrives at the highest point at the top of the gravel pile.

ANDREEA DELEANU

If you have listened to the AD carefully, you have probably observed that it offers a vivid description thanks to the use of concise and precise words such as grassy, deciduous and pitched. These however are morphologically complex and semantically rich words, that might not suit any user. On the same line, uncommon words such as slope, gravel, and gear, are very descriptive but they might not be easy for everyone.

ANDREEA DELEANU

As you shall see, the E2U version of the AD avoids the most difficult words, and in order to be read slowly and to be more comprehensible, it uses concise sentences and gets rid of the longer bits.

MIHA ZOR

E2U AD: The title of the documentary show is Stories behind the faces. The documentary show presents Sabina Dermota. She is visually impaired. Small stones are placed on the top of a hill. There are a few trees around the small stones. A blond woman appears. She is wearing a rucksack, and trekking clothes. She gets closer to the small stones, she sits down and she begins to talk.

- ANDREEA DELEANU We hope you enjoyed the video and learned something new. This is just one way of implementing E2U principles in AD. More solutions are certainly possible. You can think about them and find new ways to simplify the original AD!
- ANDREJ TOMAŽIN The standard AD in this video sample was created by Miha Zor from RTV Slovenija. The E2U AD was created by Elisa Perego from UNITS. Both were read by Miha Zor from RTV Slovenija.
